ERIC W. HAMBER IS NEW LIEUT.-GOVERNOR

LEON BLUM SOON MAY BE NAMED FRENCH PREMIER

Paris Political Circles Say Socialist Leader Likely to Form Cabinet After Chamber of Deputies Run-off Elections Next Sunday.

Associated Press
Paris, April 29.—French political sources said today Leon Blum, Socialist leader who has never participated in a government, is likely to be asked to form a cabinet when the new Chamber of Deputies assembles after next Sunday's run-off elections.

The solidification of the People's Front of Communist, Socialist and Radical-Socialist parties indicated the Socialists would have the greatest representation in the new chamber.

TOTAL OF 130 SEATS

Under the popular front agreement to throw full support to the coalition candidate who led each district in last Sunday's first voting, the Socialists appeared due to win about 120 seats.

The Radical-Socialists, dominant party in the last chamber, would take a slightly smaller number of places. The Communists led in enough of the 618 districts to win sixty seats under the leftist plan, but observers expressed doubt they would obtain that many.

Paris, April 29.—Retirements of candidates are in full swing as France's election campaign moves into its final stage prior to the second-stage balloting next Sunday. This stage will determine the new line-up of parties in the Chamber of Deputies, for only 184 of the 618 seats were filled in last Sunday's voting.

In every department of France, parties of the Left coalition, the Popular Front, are asserting their discipline. In thirty-six constituencies of the Paris region the Socialist candidate has retired in favor of the better-placed Communist. Six Socialists retired in favor of Radical-Socialists.

Fire Rate Cut Is Expected For City

Announcement on Reported Reduction of 10 Per Cent On Most Classes Awaited Tomorrow

Announcement of a generous cut in fire insurance rates, in Victoria is expected from officials of the British Columbia Insurance Underwriters' Association tomorrow morning. Details of the move, long sought in the city, could not be ascertained today, but it was believed the majority of risks, with the exception of those at present considered in the A class, would benefit by approximately 10 per cent.

D. S. McGregor, manager of the association, was reported out of town today, but queries to Vancouver quoted him as saying the move was under consideration.

S. Clegg, president of the local body, declined to give details on the plan, but indicated figures would be available tomorrow. It was believed (Turn to Page 2, Col. 2)

Unemployed Hold Fort in New Jersey Legislative Chamber

Demanding new relief measures, jobless persons were occupying seats of New Jersey representatives in the assembly chamber when the above picture was taken. They were still there today.

Associated Press
Trenton, N.J., April 29.—An all-but exhausted band of jobless, weary by a week's unbroken occupation of the New Jersey Assembly Chamber, debated today whether to hold on or retire while measures preliminary to establishment of a new state relief plan were shaped for legislative action tonight.

The unemployed group had promised to remain until the lawmakers found money to provide for them. Republican Assembly leaders expected to push through tonight's session of the Legislature a measure which would return direct supervision of relief to municipalities and establish a State House Commission, composed of the Governor and other state officials, as the dispenser of relief funds.

Lower interest rates for British Columbia and the rest of Canada through rehabilitation of public confidence and credit by sound financing was indicated as the policy of the provincial treasury.

When Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance, commented upon the present negotiations between provinces and the Dominion Government.

Questioned in connection with his views on Dominion assistance for Saskatchewan in meeting a $2,000,000 maturity on May 1, Mr. Hart said:

"I feel confident the Dominion will reach some understanding with Saskatchewan's bankers so that the maturity will be paid. The Dominion has not the authority to advance funds directly to the province, but I think a satisfactory arrangement will be made."

Mr. Hart said he regarded this as of vast importance in re-establishing confidence of the investing public in the western provinces. He recently suggested this should be done and also advocated the Dominion should buy up the issue defaulted by Alberta.

BARTER PLAN AT LETHBRIDGE

Mrs. Mildred Erickson Asks Aberhart's Support For "Social Credit" Scheme

Canadian Press
Lethbridge, Alta., April 29.—Mrs. Mildred Erickson of Lethbridge, a staunch supporter of William Aberhart, today awaited a reply from Alberta's Premier to her letter asking his support for her proposed "social credit" trading company.

"Not one five-cent piece will change hands," Mrs. Erickson said, in the business she hopes to establish, where farmers will trade their farm produce for groceries and city residents will barter trade goods, services, clothing or whatever they have for farm products.

Mrs. Erickson expects to be assisted by her father, Nick Fazio, who farms eighty acres close to Lethbridge.

H.W. ANDERSON, TORONTO, DIES

Former Editor of Globe Succumbs in Sixty-first Year After Operation

Canadian Press
Toronto, April 29.—Harry W. Anderson, former managing editor of The Toronto Globe and a member of the royal commission which soon will investigate Canadian penitentiary conditions, died in a hospital here early today.

The sixty-year-old newspaperman, who resigned from The Globe in January, was operated on last Thursday. He showed definite improvement for three days, but a heart condition complicated his illness and led to his death.

Funeral arrangements have not been completed. Mr. Anderson was managing editor of The Toronto Globe for ten years, during which period he maintained the best traditions of that newspaper. But he was a star reporter rather than a great publicist.

He was tremendously interested in the human side of politics, knew intimately and was trusted implicitly by the greatest Canadian statesmen of the last thirty years.

"Woman in Red" Deported By U.S.

Mrs. Sage, Informer Who Led Dillinger to His Death, Returns to Roumania

Associated Press
New York, April 29.—Mrs. Anna Sage, the "woman in red" who decoyed John Dillinger to his death at the hands of federal agents in Chicago, sailed on the liner President Harding at noon today, a deportee to her native Roumania.

Locked in a first-class cabin while the ship was at its pier, Mrs. Sage, forty-four-year-old brunette, talked with questioners through a ventilator.

She readily told how she had pointed Dillinger out to the government men, and said she had received $5,000 for informing.

"It was my duty," she said, "and I'd do it again."

NOT DOUBT-CROSSED
"Do you feel you were double-crossed by the government in the deportation proceedings?" she was asked.

"I have never felt that way," she replied.

Mr. Hamber will succeed at Government House, Victoria, Hon. J. W. Fordham Johnson, who will leave his office tomorrow because of poor health. His term of office ordinarily would not end until August 31, but a month ago he tendered his resignation.

It is expected Mr. and Mrs. Hamber will move into Government House from their Vancouver home immediately.

Mr. and Mrs. Hamber are in Victoria today in connection with the appointment.

Mr. Hamber will be British Columbia's fifteenth Lieut.-Governor since Confederation. The first was Sir Joseph Trutch, appointed in 1871. The others were Hon. Albert Richards, 1876; C. F. Cornwall, 1881; Hugh Nelson, 1887; Hon. Edgar Dewdney, 1892; Thomas Robert McInnes, 1897; Hon. Sir Joly de Lathlinere, 1900; James Dunsanville, 1905; T. W. He was educated at St. John's College and the University of Manitoba, from which institution he received his B.A. in 1909.

His wife—the new chatelaine at Government House, upon whom the social duties of the province will fall—was Alden Hendry, daughter of John Hendry of Vancouver. They were married in 1914.

Associated Press Correspondent
With the Italian Motorized Column South of Dessie, Ethiopia, April 28 (By Military Plane to Amara, Eritrea, April 29).—We are rolling on towards Addis Ababa today on the last day of this pretentious colonial military adventure.

We are packed in trucks, following a great dusty line stretching miles ahead, thundering through dust clouds along the imperial highway and over jolting temporary roads, eating dirt on the way to Emperor Haile Selassie's capital.

There are 16,000 troops in more than 1,000 trucks. Other trucks are carrying artillery, motorcycles armed with machine guns, bellowing, cattle and squawking chickens to be later slaughtered for our food, tons of canned water and flour for bread.

CLIMAX OF CAMPAIGN
It is the climax, the lifting of the curtain for the last of the dramatic acts, and the scenery is magnificent.

British Observers Predict New Prime Minister Will Be Chosen

London, April 29.—Reports persist in circles close to the government of the retirement of Prime Minister Baldwin will not be long delayed.

"When I retire it will be at my own time," was Mr. Baldwin's own reply to rumors to this effect at Worcester three weeks ago.

S. F. Markham, National Labor member of Parliament, addressing his South Nottingham electors yesterday evening, declared the Prime Minister had made up his mind to resign and was only awaiting an opportunity.

Mr. Markham said: "I do not say the retirement will be in the next few weeks, but one thing of which I am certain is the government before this time next year will be changed out of all recognition."

Kidnap May Be Student Prank

Scantily-clad Actress Is Abducted From Edinburgh Theatre; Released in Street

Edinburgh, April 29.—University of Edinburgh authorities today sought to ascertain whether an attempted "kidnaping" of Renee Houston, well-known comedienne, was a student prank or something more serious.

Miss Houston was "kidnaped" from the Empire Theatre here last night by a gang of young men believed to be students. She was carried away, scantily clad, in an automobile. The doorman at the stage entrance to the theatre previously had been tied up.

Shortly afterwards the "abductors" apparently lost their nerve. Alarmed by the cries of the actress, they stopped the car, put her into the street and fled. Passersby came to her assistance and she was taken home.

In the interval, two young men had appeared at the office of the theatre manager and demanded £25 (about $125) as ransom money, for charity. They ran off when the manager began to question them.

The Edinburgh Students' Union disavowed the kidnapping.

British Director Coming to Victoria to Seek Talent For "Great Divide"

Canadian Press
Vancouver, April 29.—Some of the difficulties and fun of filming at 10,000 feet altitude at Glacier in the Canadian Rocky Mountains was described today by George Busby, director on location for the Gaumont-British Pictures Corporation.

Mr. Busby and his technical staff arrived this morning from Revelstoke to take waterfront scenes in Vancouver and Victoria for "The Great Divide," film version of Alan Sullivan's "Tracks of Destiny," story of the building of the Canadian Pacific Railway across Canada half a century ago.

Sidney Bonnet, camera man who filmed from the air and land scenes of the 1933 Houston-Mount Everest expedition, knew the answers to breaking film and other cold-weather equipment trouble experienced in Glacier's below zero temperature, Mr. Busby said.

LANDON GAINS FOR NOMINATION BY U.S. REPUBLICANS

BIGGEST "WRITE-IN"

Boston, April 29.—Governor Alf. M. Landon of Kansas was given the largest Republican "write-in" vote in the Massachusetts presidential preference primary yesterday, exceeding that of all others on Republican ballots, the complete returns showed today.

In the larger cities, only a small percentage of voting Republicans expressed their presidential preference. In Boston, approximately 30,000 Republicans voted, and of these only about 11,000 marked their ballots for the five leading presidential favorites. In Springfield, approximately 10,000 Republican votes were cast, and only one voter in four indicated his presidential preference.

SMALL VOTE

Although a state-wide tabulation of total votes cast was not available, the proportion of the electorate participating in the presidential preference primary apparently was low in many communities.

The complete returns gave Landon a heavy lead over Senator Borah of Idaho, Col. Frank Knox of Chicago, former President Herbert Hoover and Senator Vandenberg of Michigan.

WASHINGTON OPINIONS

Washington, April 29 (Associated Press).—Supporters of President Roosevelt for re-election and of Governor Alf Landon of Kansas and Senator W. E. Borah of Idaho to oppose him in November drew satisfaction today from the Pennsylvania and Massachusetts primaries.

Overwhelming Col. Henry Breckinridge, his first primary opponent, the President accumulated a total in Pennsylvania yesterday that spoke for itself. Addition of the delegates from both states brought those listed for him to 442, or all of those so far selected, of the 1,100 to be seated at the Democratic National Convention at Philadelphia in June.

Because neither primary was binding on the delegates chosen, Republican leaders were hesitant to draw final conclusions about the big "write-in" demonstration for Landon in Massachusetts, or the total polled by Borah unopposed in Pennsylvania. Of 502 Republican delegates now elected, 487 are uninstructed. There will be 1,001 in the convention at Cleveland in June.

Of the 108 instructed, Landon has 84 and Borah 21.

Endorsements and indications of preference have been given by various state and district meetings, and by some individual delegates. Claims including those conflict.

Supporters of Col. Frank Knox of Chicago have estimated his strength to date at 153 delegates.

The majority of the preference votes in the Massachusetts Democratic primary were cast for Mr. Roosevelt, but no effort was made to tabulate the total immediately.

Fire Rate Cut Is Expected For City

Heard all board agents in the city had received confidential reports on the matter.

LARGEST IN YEAR

The expected reduction would mark the first major cut in rates charged for fire insurance here in years. Smaller concessions have been given by the insurance companies on different occasions, but the figures have not approached the cut now considered.

Two or three years ago the city fire wardens worked energetically for a reduction in the rate but their efforts failed to make any appreciable difference in the charges at the time.

The comparatively small fire loss, coupled with the amount of money paid for insurance, was believed to be one of the contributing factors in bringing about the proposed change in rate. Furthermore, the high standard of the city's fire department was understood to have played an important part in influencing consideration of the matter.

Although it could not be determined definitely today, it was generally expected the proposed change would have a material effect on the new blanket coverage scheme, recently supported by the City Council. It was felt any reduction made in the general rate would apply to the blanket policy which would cover all city-owned property and improvements.

Social Crediters May End Interest

Elimination of Payments on Private Debts Now Planned in Alberta

Canadian Press

Edmonton, April 29.—Alberta's Social Credit caucus is drafting plans to effect elimination of interest on private debts as soon as the next session of the Legislature gets under way. It was made known here today in party circles.

Legislation to the same end was killed suddenly just before it was to have been presented to the House in the closing days of the recent session. It was revealed, but already a majority of the caucus members are declared to be on record as favoring it next year.

Meanwhile, Premier William Abernethy declared that "ultimately we must eliminate interest before civilization can ever rehabilitate itself; the process of reaching that goal is what we have to face." The Premier added, however, that public debts such as provincial bonds and savings certificates, would not come within the scope of the debt-to-interest policy. Projected redefining operations would leave interest of 2½ or 3 per cent on provincial securities.

The draft bill which was all but approved in the Social Credit caucus at the recent session would have given private creditors two alternatives: Cut the principal of each debt by half and continue to charge the same interest on the remainder, or maintain the whole principal, including accrued interest up to date, and then agree to forego interest in the future.

The obvious choice of all creditors, the caucus members believed, would be to maintain their principal and go without interest.

SNOWGLIDES SHOWN

Ten thousand feet of film was shot at Glacier and around Revelstoke in the last few months, including shots with laborers working on the last winter's snowslides. One such slide was indirectly responsible for the deaths of seventeen railwaymen on March 2.

The main outdoor scenes have yet to be done. The principals will arrive at Revelstoke in late May or early June and when production gets under way in earnest "mobs" of 500 people or more will be selected locally at Revelstoke.

TALENT NEEDED

One purpose of Mr. Busby's visit to the Coast is to look over talent in Vancouver and Victoria for smaller parts.

Richard Arlen will take the male lead as John Hickey, and Barbara Green will be Mary Moody. Other principals will be Lilli Palmer as Nell Regan and Roy Emerton, Barry McKay, Percy Parsons and Jocky MacKay.

"The Great Divide," the tentative name for the picture, is the third of a series by Gaumont-British on British Empire subjects.

Mr. Busby remarked that while working on a feature in Khyber Pak, India, the picture party was doing battle scenes while real fighting was going on a short distance away. "Only our battles were bigger," he said, smiling. "We had more soldiers."

When the events which will be pictured in "The Great Divide" took place, Victoria was in existence, but there was no Vancouver. The building of Vancouver followed choice of its site as the terminus of the railway whose building is the story of the picture.

LOWER INTEREST BY REBUILDING CREDIT IS PLAN

on April 1 so that the bondholders could be paid their principal and the money put in circulation.

"These things," he said, "will go a long way toward building up credit and putting us in a position to seek lower interest rates. Ever since we came into office our government has been pressing for a reduction of the debt burden. This remains one of our chief objectives. But I firmly believe this must be done by rehabilitation of the public confidence in our financing and not by default or threat of default. We must restore that confidence which has been so badly shaken by new and impractical theories.

Henri Clermont, Minister of Education and Radical-Socialist, retired in Chateau-Thierry in favor of the Socialist who headed the first ballot, Jacques Stern, Minister for Colonies and Independent Republics, is continuing his fight in Alpes-Maritimes. Stern headed the list on the first ballot, but the combined Radical-Socialist and Socialist vote threatened him with heavy running next Sunday.

HERRIOT'S POSITION
At Lyons the Socialist candidate retired in favor of Edouard Herriot, Radical-Socialist, who was succeeded recently by Edouard Daladier as leader of that party. The combined Radical-Socialist and Socialist vote should secure Herriot a fairly easy victory on the second ballot.

The story of retirements grows with every passing hour. In the big industrial areas the Communists benefit. In the smaller towns and the rural areas the Popular Front discipline helps the Radical-Socialists and the Socialists.

GROUPS OF RIGHT

In response the groups of the Right and the Centre are striving hard to secure retirements in favor of the National Front.

Right wing forecasts are that after the tumult and the shouting dies the chamber will remain essentially where it was except that the extreme right and left wings will gain at the expense of the middle.

The Communist push is frankly admitted, nevertheless, L'Humanite, Communist paper, claims today that the Popular Front discipline ought to win seventy-one new seats Sunday, while the right wingers are only likely to win twelve—a net loss for the right of fifty-nine.

RADIO BULLETINS

Discussing radio broadcasting of news, Mr. Preston said one of the "If there is to be news on the air, it is vital from the standpoint of the national welfare that it be in control of an organization like the Canadian Press that has the British and Canadian viewpoint, and whose fundamental principles of accuracy and impartiality in the preparation of its news have been well established. It was for this reason the Canadian Press has offered to supply, free of charge, the bulletins for three or four news broadcasts each day, available to all radio stations.

ELECTION NEWS

Speaking of the Dominion and provincial elections, he said:

"To handle the news of an election campaign, especially one for the Dominion, with its many groups competing for publicity, each fearful of the others getting special favors in the newspapers, is a very hazardous sort of responsibility, one requiring the most exacting attention to detail. That we should have emerged from this year of combat at the polls with practically no complaints of our service is a splendid tribute to the general manager and his staff and is a record of which we as members of the Canadian Press have every reason to be proud."

"The daily newspapers of this country have never appeared to better advantage than during this very extraordinary period, and the reliable character of their news reports has been in line with the very highest ideals of modern journalism."

H. Weiss Tells New York Police E. Parker Jr. Helped Torture P. H. Wendel

Brooklyn, N.Y., April 29.—Harry Weiss, twenty-eight-year-old Brooklyn taxicab driver, was held to $50,000 bail today on an indictment charging kidnap and assault on Paul H. Wendel, disabled Trenton, N.J., attorney, whose "confession" to the Lindbergh baby kidnapping delayed the execution of Bruno Richard Hauptmann for three days.

Weiss, District Attorney W. F. Geoghan had said earlier, confessed his part in the kidnapping and named E. Parker Jr., son of the famed Burlington County, N.J., detective chief, as the "finger man."

Weiss, the prosecutor said, charged Parker "fingered" Wendel the day he was abducted, helped in the torture by which Wendel's "confession" to the Lindbergh crime supposedly was obtained in a Sheepshead Bay hide-out, and supervised the writing of five Wendel "confessions."

"I saw Parker yank the ropes that pulled Wendel up and down like a jackrabbit," Geoghan said Weiss told him of the torture.

Parker, son of the "lone wolf" Burlington County, N.J., detective, and Murray Bleefeld, also named in the confession, are under indictment. Both are fugitives.

—all green, grass-covered, treelined hills, with red and yellow lush tropical flowers and birds chirping through the dust clouds.

After five months of barren, sheer rock mountains without vegetation in the north, I can understand, for the first time, the reason for all this.

The troops on foot have already occupied most of the strategic points far in advance of this column toward Addis Ababa, assuring little or no opposition.

GUESSES MADE

With complete indifference, the soldiers are guessing as to the whereabouts of Emperor Selassie, the progress of peace negotiations which are rumored to be underway, and whether the Emperor has left Addis Ababa.

"All we know," the highest officers said, "is that we are going to Addis Ababa, as planned and ordered—beyond that is not our job. That is the business of diplomats. We are soldiers, and we are doing a soldier's job."

They are doing it thoroughly. The organization is so perfect that even the Press has its regular position in the line behind the field radio.

POLICE GO ALONG

In the van are foot soldiers with a four-day start. Then come miles of the motor column, and even Imperial Guards and carabinieri groups for policing Addis Ababa, as well as dozens of staff officers.

With luck and fine weather holding out, the army seems certain to reach its goal well within the ten days set after the start at dawn last Sunday from Dessay.

From one end of the huge military parade to the other, with foot soldiers at the last, the column totals 30,000.

SWING OVER

Before the start, I watched long lines of chiefs submitting at Marshal Pietro Badoglio's headquarters. Hundreds of Ethiopians have enlisted in native Eritrean Askari corps, or are appearing for enlistment, some still in their Imperial Guard uniforms.

Seemingly devoid of national feeling, these fighting Ethiopians are merely shifting to the winning army, which has always been their custom since they have known little but fighting.

Today, the thundering truck line is one-third of the way to Haile Selassie's capital, heading south.

BRUSH IN HILLS

Only one sharp engagement has resulted, coming 100 kilometres (62.5 miles) south of Dessay. A band of Ethiopian irregulars appeared over the hills. Machine guns in the advance opened a brisk exchange and the Ethiopians fled, leaving fourteen dead and bearing their wounded back into the hills.

HAILED BY RAIN

Some, April 29.—Tropical East African rains bogged down the Italian offensive against Basha Ranch today, causing southern troops to call a temporary halt while the motorized northern forces rumbled on toward Addis Ababa.

Rain also fell in Rome, but it failed to dampen the spirit of the country, expecting the call to an "adunata" or national mobilization any day now in celebration of the anticipated capture of the northern Fascist forces into Ethiopia's capital.

With the Italian Army on the Southern Front at Gorrhael, Ethiopia, April 29.—The Italian troops here faced an extremely critical position when 5,000 Ethiopians attacked last night, only the magnificent courage of a battalion of native Somalis averting possible disaster.

The Ethiopians, firing from the surrounding bush, poured a deadly hail of bullets into the camp, where even the war correspondents were warned they must be ready to fight for their lives.

After a night-long battle, the Ethiopians were driven off, leaving 600 dead. The Italians lost ten officers killed and twenty-three wounded.

Toronto Welcomes Mine Rescuers

It was Morrell also, crowded into the corner of an elevator, who thought the cage that yanked him upward to a suite-with-bath-and-shower was "worse than the Reynolds shaft."

TO GO ON STAGE

Tonight these laughing men with pallid faces of the underground dweller will take their Dragger equipment and go on the stage to give an audience some vicarious conception of the ten-day struggle to free Dr. D. E. Robertson and Alfred Scadding from the Moose River Gold Mine.

Their day was full of appointments, but they found time to visit Mrs. Herman Magill, widow of the third man imprisoned, who died before the rescuers could complete their tunnel of escape.

Leonard Amon, who remembers when they used rowboats in a Nova Scotia mine rescue, stood beside the reporters and photographers today as the two men from his home town in Nova Scotia came up to show the big town folks what couple of Stellan Draggermen look like.

PUZZLED NOW

He was a little puzzled about all this fuss over the Draggermen! It was not that Jack Simpson and George Morrell and the rest of the boys had not earned it down in the Moose River mine, he explained, only they had been doing the same thing for years and nobody had heard anything of it up to now.

There was the big Allan shaft explosion of 1917. Amon was working in the nearby Albion pit then, and he and Jack Simpson, helped search through the fallen workings for the bodies of eighty-eight fellow-miners.

"Why," he said, "all the Draggermen got that time was a couple of paragraphs, and that was one of the times they earned it."

NO MORE CAVE-INS

Moose River, N.S., April 29 (Canadian Press).—Manager F. D. Henderson of the Moose River Gold Mine, scene of Nova Scotia's most dramatic mine rescue, reported today there had been no cave-in since Dr. D. E. Robertson and Alfred Scadding were brought to the surface almost a week ago.

Cheaper Goods For Albertans

Aberhart Proposes Alberta-made Articles Be Lower Than Imports

Edmonton, April 28.—Sale of Alberta-made goods at prices lower than imported goods can be sold in the province was laid down as government policy yesterday by Premier Aberhart as a part of his plan to develop and expand industry within Alberta.

Announcement of this policy was an amplification of his earlier announcement of a plan to encourage entry of new manufacturing companies here, to process the province's own raw materials, and also to provide electric power at cost.

"We are going to encourage people to buy Alberta-made goods," the premier said. "And to do so, these goods must be sold at prices lower than those of the same goods when imported."

And his proposed path to this goal, the premier indicated definitely, will lie along the way of issue of certificates bearing tax stamps. "We are just now working out a plan by which this (manufacture of goods at less than imported cost) can be done without sacrificing the producer or retailer," the premier said. "We must follow somewhat the plan used by Japan in aiding her industries, the difference being that Japan applies it to the export trade; that is, Social Credit upsets down. Alberta will apply it to her own internal trade."

REQUEST WILL BE AMENDED

Canadian Press

Vancouver, April 28.—Judgment was reserved in the B.C. Supreme Court yesterday by Mr. Justice A. M. Manson on the rights of a posthumous child of the late David Sloan to share in his estate.

David Sloan, late managing director of the Pioneer Gold Mines Ltd., was one of four victims of a plane crash at Alta Lake last August. Under his will, he left his estate in trust to his wife to be divided in four equal shares for herself and three children.

By that will, each would have received $225,000, but the executor, at the request of Mrs. Sloan, petitioned the court to give a fifth share, $150,000, to a daughter, Frances David Sloan, born December 3, 1935.

Textile Workers Testify on Wages

Canadian Press

Montreal, April 28.—Employees of Bins Limited, silk manufacturers, told of wage conditions at the Montreal plant, as the royal commission under Mr. Justice W. P. A. Tupper of Regina continue its investigation into the textile industry here yesterday.

Romeo Caron, a weaver, said workers were not expressing their real feelings when they said they were satisfied with conditions.

Caron at present is under two weeks' suspension for alleged defective work. Leon Pelletier, chief clerk, explaining the suspension, said Caron had turned out defective work and had failed to turn out the required amount of work.

Caron said he had worked at the mill four years. He had received from $11.06 to $18.41 for fifteen days, he said.

Cecil Morrin, in the inspection department, testified she earned $13.50 a week.

The commission is continuing its hearings here.

SOME PUPILS LACK CLOTHES

Canadian Press

Vancouver, April 28.—Superintendent H. N. McCorkindale told the school board yesterday evening 101 children were absent from Vancouver schools during February because they did not have sufficient clothing and adequate footwear.

Trustee Miss Mildred Osterhout said that if 101 children were without sufficient clothing to attend classes there would be a similar number inadequately clothed and that such a condition would aggravate illness.

The superintendent was instructed to investigate the matter further.

VESUVIUS IN NEW ERUPTION

Associated Press

Naples, Italy, April 28.—The volcano Vesuvius opened a new fissure near its cone yesterday and poured quantities of lava toward the famous "Hell Valley" below. Experts said the new flow of lava was not menacing residents of the valley or crops at present.

St. Catharines, Ont., April 28.—John Redhead Sr., husband of Marina Louise Redhead, descendant of Laura Secord, is dead at his home in Niagara-on-the-Lake. He was immigration inspector for the port for many years and also was a prominent Free Mason. Frederick Redhead of Vancouver is a son.

New Industrial Set-up Urged

S. G. Blaylock States Views in Address at Ottawa

Canadian Press

Ottawa, April 28.—S. G. Blaylock, British Columbia mining executive, believes trouble will arise in Canada "unless something is done so that laboring men and the men who control industry work together, instead of against each other."

Mr. Blaylock, general manager of the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company of Trail, B.C., yesterday evening told members of the Ottawa section of the Canadian Institute of Chemistry three factors should be considered in fixing wages—cost of living, more wages for good work and an interest for workers in profits of a company.

He said experience showed in the manner in which men worked, that such a system was beneficial.

L. E. Westman of Toronto, president of the Canadian Institute, urged formation of a national organization embracing all branches of the chemical industry to co-ordinate efforts to produce wider recognition of the science's place in the economic system. In that way, he said, more jobs could be made available, more money would come from the industry and larger laboratories would be built.

LEAGUE UNION TREASURER QUILTS

Canadian Press

London, April 28.—Baron Queensborough yesterday evening resigned from the office of chairman of the finance committee and treasurer of the League of Nations Union, which he had held for nearly sixteen years.

He said he felt the League no longer was "a real League of Nations," and could not see how "at present it can function as an effective instrument for peace."

ALLENBY URGES WORLD POLICE

Associated Press

Edinburgh, April 28.—Viscount Allenby, who led the British triumphal entry into Jerusalem during the Great War, yesterday evening denounced the glory of conquest with the gain of "Dead Sea fruit."

He pleaded for establishment of some form of a world police force in a speech after his installation as Lord Rector of Edinburgh University.

Dr. B. Ruxton To Be Executed May 12

Associated Press

Manchester, Eng., April 28.—The hanging of Dr. Buck Ruxton, convicted March 13 of the "Devil's Beef-tub" slaying of his wife, was set today for May 12 in the Strangeways jail.

The Court of Criminal Appeal dismissed an appeal by Dr. Ruxton last Monday. He was to have been hanged

April 1, but the execution was postponed pending the appeal. The prosecution charged the Indian-blooded physician killed his wife and a nursemaid "on or about" September 15, 1935, dismembered the bodies and cast them into a ravine called the "Devil's Beef-tub" on the Scottish border.

Basketball was invented by assignment. A Y.M.C.A. instructor, in 1891, assigned his pupils the task of making up a new indoor game. James Naismith worked out the idea of basketball.

THE MEN AND WOMEN IN CANADA
 who work on newspapers, no matter in what department, will be thinking about Harry W. Anderson today. He lies dead in Toronto. For more than ten years he was managing-editor of The Toronto Globe, and as he passed into the first stage of the Psalmist's allotted span, he relinquished his editorial post for a membership on the Royal Commission to investigate Canadian penitentiary conditions. It was The Globe, by the way, which had much to do with the exposure of a state of affairs in these institutions that had been the subject of a good deal of criticism.

Harry Anderson was well known to workers on newspapers in Victoria. He was last here a few years ago and took keen delight in fishing at Brentwood. Of all the newspapermen of the east he was one of the most enthusiastic personal advertisers of Vancouver Island in particular and British Columbia in general. He wrote of this part of Canada with a sincerity of feeling which endeared him to all who knew and understood his sterling qualities—and his deep attachment for all who belong to what is known as the Fourth Estate.

Like thousands who belong to this business of working for the newspapers, Harry Anderson began as a "printer's devil." It was at Chatham, Ontario, that he first began to do what is known as "set type at the case." And from cub reporter, by his sheer ability through the years, he won his way to the editorial chair of The Toronto Globe. Were he able to read this, it is pretty safe to say that he would put his "blue pencil" through that part of the Canadian Press dispatch which today records his passing and reminds the Canadian public that he "was a sparkling after-dinner speaker who appealed to the heart and emotions."

It can be said of Harry Anderson, however, that he was a crusader for the underdog, the champion of the less fortunate. He never regarded himself as a great editor; but he was a reporter of the first order, a reporter who could paint a verbal picture of any kind, from a great disaster to a political convention. And this is the man whose memory newspaper people far and wide today will be honoring in silence. It is "30" with Harry Anderson. "Thirty" is written at the end of every newspaper story.

CANADIAN MINING

 bined value of the products of the farms, forests, mines, fisheries and trapping in Canada are relatively incomplete prior to 1920, such figures as are available suggest that previous to that year, even in the days of maximum activity in the Yukon, the value of mineral production in Canada did not exceed 10 per cent of total primary production. Where total primary production in 1920 had a value of $2,277,661,000, mining production amounted to $213,042,000, and for 1921 the two figures were $1,636,421,000 and $162,927,000 respectively. In 1923 and 1924 minerals began to constitute a larger proportion of the total, the value in those years being $214,079,000 and $209,583,000 respectively, whereas total primary production in Canada in each of those years was less than $1,800,000,000.

After 1932, however, the recovery in value of mineral production was more rapid than that in any other industry; by 1935 the total value again exceeded $300,000,000 and came within 1 per cent of the peak of $310,000,000 attained in 1929. It seems probable that in 1935 the value of mineral production amounted to between 20 and 25 per cent of the total primary production of Canada. In 1935, new high records were attained for gold, nickel, copper and zinc. Silver and lead output was slightly less than in 1934, but there was an increase in the total value for each metal.

Gold production in 1935 amounted to 3,290,664 fine ounces, with a value of $115,798,000. Of this total nearly $48,000,000 was due to the increased value of gold; thus in 1932, the previous record year, when output amounted to 3,044,367 fine ounces, the value of production was only $71,479,373. As a result of this advance in the value of gold the mines have been able to treat lower-grade ores profitably—thus increasing the total ultimate yield and prolonging the life of the mine. Moreover, higher prices for gold made the depression a period of activity in the search for new properties. Many new areas have been discovered, but since several years are required to bring a prospect to the production stage, it is only now that the results of this earlier work are becoming apparent. During 1935, seventeen Canadian gold mines were brought into production—eight in Ontario, five in British Columbia, three in Quebec and one in Manitoba.

By the way, nickel has long been an outstanding factor in Canada's mining industry. The Sudbury deposits were first discovered in 1856, but did not attract much attention until 1883. In the earlier years the deposits were developed for their copper alone, but at about this time the true value of the nickel content began to secure recognition. During the World War, production was greatly expanded and exceeded 92,000,000 pounds valued at $37,000,000 in 1918. Operations were later curtailed, but intensive research developed many new uses for the metal and output surpassed war levels in 1928, 1929 and 1930—the peak, reported in 1929, being 110,000,000 pounds, worth $27,115,500. The depression resulted in a decline in demand and operations were again curtailed, but the output in 1932 falling to 30,000,000 pounds in quantity. With the return of improved business conditions, operations were increased, and in 1934 the record of 1929 was exceeded by 17 per cent. This expansion continued during 1935 with an output of 139,000,000 pounds valued at $35,450,000.

As far as this province is concerned, of course, there is a great future for mining development. It is a commonplace to say that our mineral wealth has scarcely been scratched. It is none the less true. There obviously is a great opportunity in British Columbia for men with grit and aspiration to get out into the hills where we have been told there is gold.

MR. SCHWAB'S PHILOSOPHY

THE MAN WHO IS DRAWING RELIEF
 in Canada or the United States, or in any country, for that matter, will not get much consolation out of the philosophy of Mr. Charles M. Schwab, one of our neighbor's outstanding industrialists, when he says to the youth of America not to go after riches "because it doesn't pay."

These were part of Mr. Schwab's remarks when he left New York the other day for Great Britain. We quote a well-known commentator: "There is nothing to it," says Mr. Schwab. "I have worked hard all my life. I have made good money and attained good things. But what does it all amount to?" He concluded by remarking that honest work, peace, and contentment are the best part of life.

This is excellent advice, and ambitious young men may properly listen to it. But one suspects that Mr. Schwab himself would have turned deaf ears to it, if it had been given to him when he was twenty.

Mr. Schwab has had a long and uncommonly active and useful career. He attained this career by going after riches in the traditional way. And considering the amount of driving force that was built into his makeup, our guess is that he would do the same thing if he were starting all over again.

What many young men these days are trying to make is the first $1,000 upon which to build the superstructure on which may grow the following thousands, or millions of dollars. It is the first thousand which gives the average taxpayer a feeling of contentment—if he can earn it.

PERIL TO IMPERIALISTS

WHATEVER THE OUTCOME OF THE
 Italo-Ethiopian conquest the prestige of the white race is sure to suffer because of it.

This is the conclusion of many foreign observers. It is pointed out that the renewal of old-fashioned white imperialism in Africa has done much to arouse the racial consciousness of dark-skinned subject folk in Asia as well as in Africa.

Already one can note an increasing number of disturbances among native tribes the world over. White "empire builders" face a new challenge of their mastery over tribal subjects. Territory that is held will have to be fought for. Empires may conceivably shrink under this most severe test of imperialism.

Colonel E. M. House, advisor to the late President Wilson, says in a magazine article, speaking of the United States: "We are in a position to build up a war force that could be the most potent instrument for peace in all the world." Quite so, Colonel House; all the nations are doing their best to build up a similar instrument for peace. The trouble is that the money the taxpayers are "shelling out" is for the instrument of war.

The House of Commons Committee on Radio yesterday heard evidence as to how Maurice Boddington, Toronto actor who played the part of "Mr. Sage" in Mr. Bennett's pre-election, coast-to-coast, political broadcasts last autumn, received a letter threatening his life after his first and only appearance in the role. Enraged audiences have been known to throw things, even to chase actors out of town, but this "Mr. Sage" performance must have been worse than we felt it was to provoke a threat of murder.

WHY THE INCREASE?
 The Sault Ste. Marie Star

In 1932, with an average of 4,547 people on the relief rolls, the total expenditure on relief in the Sault was $164,126.80.

In 1935, with an average of 2,268 on the rolls, less than half the number in 1932, the city relief expenditures totaled $183,343.91, or over 11 per cent more than the 1932 cost.

In other words the per capita cost of relief in 1932 was $36.10, while in 1935 it was $80.94, an advance of almost 125 per cent.

That is a condition which deserves some consideration by the welfare board and the city council.

Various reasons are advanced to account for this rise in cost, an increase in the price of some commodities, the fact that more rent is being paid, the fact the longer a family is on relief the more clothing there has to be provided and so on.

These factors certainly play their part, but for all that the increase in cost seems to be very high and it would be well to canvas the whole situation to see whether there is laxness in policy or in administration.

Loose Ends

Events seem to move on somehow—We should tell them—Mr. Foxy tells about the moon—And Mr. Hoover adds a few figures to those on hand.

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

EVENTS

YOU CAN hardly pick up a paper these days without finding in it an attack on some government, some political party or some politician from Mr. Baldwin downward. This is part of the processes of democracy, adds to the pleasure of the day and enables persons like me to make a living. But actually the poor politicians have very little to do with events. They are not in control of the current economic situation. They have very little to do with the tragic progress of events in Europe. They are merely the mouthpiece of circumstances which have been in the making for a long, long time. Probably for centuries.

Blind forces are moving in the world today which have their roots in the Industrial Revolution, in the invention of the first steam engine. Nobody can stop them. The politicians can pretend to stop them, but actually they are only screaming at them, like King Canute telling the tide to roll back, and the public is standing nearby, screaming at the screaming statesmen. But the tide rises. The tide of economic pressure rises, the hungry nations get hungrier, but will insist on eating, the production of goods increases and must be absorbed, the need for markets increases while those near the machines go empty, and will be fought for when the time comes, the human race insists on living and will live whatever the cost.

Meanwhile the statesmen pretend to be guiding events—as Hoare and Laval tried to divide Ethiopia, were rightly repudiated, and then found Italy taking the country anyhow—and the public blames the statesmen for not guiding them more successfully. The thing to understand is that events are guiding the statesmen, and neither they or you really have anything to do with it.

The enemies of the present social order know perfectly well, but will insist on eating, the production of goods increases and must be absorbed, the need for markets increases while those near the machines go empty, and will be fought for when the time comes, the human race insists on living and will live whatever the cost.

GARDEN HINT

IN ALL this mass of material about gardening which you read in the magazines and newspapers these days everyone seems to have overlooked the moon. According to my dark friend, Mr. Foxy, who was brought up on a plantation in the Deep South, the moon is the most important factor of all in planting seeds at this time of year. Down South, where Mr. Foxy comes from, they understand these things. They only plant their corn when there is no moon in the sky at night.

"For," says Mr. Foxy, addressing the barber shop at large, "if you want to grow corn, they no use to plant it when the moon is full, but if you're planting lettuce and radish and the like of that, there's no use planting it when there isn't any moon. You've got to know the moon and plant according."

"It's all very well to talk about your chemical fertilizers and all like that, but the moon is what decides it. The trouble with you guys is you haven't had to grow your own food and starve if it didn't grow. You only grow a little corn and truck to eat. Down South they plant when the moon is full, and they plant because they have to, or they don't eat. And everybody knows you've got to plant according to the moon. Right now it's no use to plant heavy stuff, because there's a new moon in the sky. In a couple of weeks it will be safe to put seeds in. You're just wasting your time right now. It's the moon. Doesn't the moon raise the tides up? It's the same way with raising crops up. Now you understand."

I thought that in this spring season, when everybody is sowing seed regardless of the moon, I should issue Mr. Foxy's public warning. There is no extra charge for it.

BELL THEM

THE TOWN COUNCIL of Staveley, Alberta, has lately done a wise thing. It has declared that the owners of all cats must attach bells to the creature so that birds may hear their approach and escape. Any cat found without a bell will be destroyed and the town constable of Staveley will be paid a fee of twenty-five cents for every feline execution. One trusts that he will grow wealthy on the proceeds.

The City Council of Victoria and the municipal councils of Spanish and other municipalities here should follow the wise example of Staveley. In this country we have bred a race of wild cats, domestic cats gone back to nature, and they infest the whole countryside. If they continue to increase at the present rate, we shall soon have no song birds left at all. Meanwhile the nice soft family cat, the companion of the hearth, prowls about the garden destroying several birds every week and coming home to the bosom of the family with feathers and gore about its whiskers.

I can understand killing animals for food, but it has always puzzled me why kind-hearted old ladies will maintain and fondle a born sneak, killer and cowardly assassin like a cat who is busy murdering other creatures much more valuable whenever your back is turned. Bells on the brutes would help to warn the birds of their approach, but in a civilized community such creatures would not be permitted to exist at all.

G-MAN

MR. HOOVER, Uncle Sam's chief G-man, has just produced some new scientific findings about that baffling modern phenomenon, the unknown American. He says there are 150,000 murderers at large in the United States and that 300,000 Americans now walking the streets in peace will be murdered in due course.

The average murderer who has had luck happens to be convicted, which is rare, spends about four years in jail so that murder, one supposes, is a safer crime to commit than bank robbery, for example, or forgery. The figures are not nearly so unscientific in this regard, though, though there must be a substantial little battalion of murderers at large here, and some other killers convicted in our courts will remain in jail less than four years.

Mr. Hoover's new findings add to some of the other well-known facts about the American people. It is known, for example, that over 80,000 of them are killed every year in automobile accidents, and still more by falling down in their bath tubs and cracking their skulls; while there are many millions, it is known how many, without running water in their homes and there are far more radios in the nation than bath tubs. But one aspect of American civilization which the statistics never seem to mention is that the majority of the population still doesn't get murdered, or killed in automobiles or in bath tubs, and lives on the highest standard of physical comfort yet achieved by any nation of similar size. They never get into the newspapers.

DICTATORS

To the Editor:—In Tuesday's Colonist I cut out the following paragraph: "Yet there are persons in this free country who continue to talk of the benefits of dictatorship in government."

Are we a free people? I have sent the following from the diary of a small grocer in Victoria striving to get a living. Government and other officials who have given him a visit within the past two months:

1. Fire inspector.
2. Business license collector.
3. Potato inspector.
4. Scale inspector.
5. Sample of butter taken.
6. Sample of milk taken.
7. Eggs inspected.
8. Income tax man.
9. Enquiry for radio license.
10. Landlord right on the dot.
11. Serious inquiry as to whether owners' daughter should have $14.50 a week minimum wage, etc.

Other businesses have similar annoyances. I know of one business who not only have government officials but association officials who have powers worse than a dictator. I understand there is one government official to every five persons.

WIN ELECTRIC FELLOWSHIPS

Eight Students Named to Pursue Research in General Electric Laboratories

Schenectady, April 29.—Fellowships awarded to eight college students from widely separated sections of the country will enable them to pursue studies and carry on research investigations which, without such financial assistance, they would be unable to undertake in educational institutions of their choice. It was announced here today by the Charles A. Coffin Foundation, established by the General Electric Company in memory of its founder.

The eight recipients for the academic year 1935-36 are: George E. Boyd of Jefferson City, Mo.; Lyman B. Fink of Corona, Calif.; Alvin H. Howell of Boston, Mass.; Russell A. Nielsen of Portland, Ore.; Richard W. Porter of Santa Fe, N.M.; Julian S. Schwinger of New York City; Chauncey Starr of Newark, N.J.; and Harold G. Vogt of Buffalo, N.Y.

The fellowships are awarded annually to encourage and assist in the pursuit of research activities in the fields of electricity, physics and physical chemistry. One hundred and thirty fellowships and $600,000 have been made available since the foundation's establishment in 1922.

Charles A. Coffin was General Electric's first president, serving for thirty years, and later was chairman of its board of directors. He died July 14, 1928.

The work which the eight men have mapped out for their research problems is in every case highly technical and will be carried on at a number of the country's foremost graduate schools.

George E. Boyd, a graduate of the University of Chicago (B.S. in chemistry, 1933), and now studying for his Ph.D. at that university, will devote himself to the determination of the total surface energies of solids and the total interfacial energies of solid liquid interfaces by calorimetric means.

Lyman B. Fink, a graduate of the University of California (B.S. in electrical engineering, 1933; M.S., 1934), who is working for his Ph.D. at that university, will study the influence of saturation on the transient angular oscillations of synchronous machines. Mr. Fink received a similar fellowship from the Coffin Foundation last year.

Alvin H. Howell, a graduate of the University of Kansas (B.S. in electrical engineering, 1933) and of the Michigan College of Mining and Technology (M.S. in electrical engineering, 1934), who is now working for his Ph.D. at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, will study the insulation problems associated with the use of compressed gas as the essential insulating medium in high-voltage cables for direct-current power transmission.

Russell A. Nielsen, a graduate of Stanford University (A.B., 1933; A.M., 1934), will devote himself to the determination of the absolute values of the electron mobility in helium, neon and argon, and the temperature dependence of the electron mobility in molecular hydrogen.

Richard W. Porter, a graduate of the University of Kansas (B.S. in electrical engineering, 1934), who is working for his Ph.D. at Yale, will devote himself to the study of transients in the monocrystalline network. Mr. Porter also received a similar fellowship from the foundation last year.

Julian S. Schwinger, a student at Columbia University (B.A. expected this year), will make a theoretical investigation of the nuclear capture and ejection of particles by collisions and the annihilation of radioactively emitted positrons by extraneous electrons, using this research as partial fulfillment of the work required for a Ph.D.

Chauncey Starr, a graduate of Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute (electrical engineering, 1932; Ph.D. in physics, 1935), expects to work on the pressure coefficient of thermal conductivity, experimental and theoretical, at Harvard. Mr. Starr, like Messrs. Fink and Porter, was the recipient of a fellowship from the foundation last year.

Harold G. Vogt, a graduate of the University of Buffalo (B.A., 1931), who is now studying for his Ph.D. at Harvard, expects to work on research into the nature of the neutron and its interactions with matter.

Fellowships have been granted by the foundation annually since 1922, when it was created by the General Electric board of directors for the composite purpose of assisting deserving college graduates in post-graduate work, recognizing the achievements of electric power companies and electric railway companies and rewarding employees of the General Electric Company who each year advance the efficiency of the company or contribute by meritorious work to progress in the electrical art.

Fifty-two students submitted applications this year to the Charles A. Coffin Fellowship and Research Committee, by which the eight recipients were selected. The committee consisted of: Dr. Bergen Davis of the National Academy of Science; Dr. Douglas S. Anderson of the Society for Promotion of Engineering Education; and E. B. Meyer of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers. These men were assisted by Dr. Saul Dushman, assistant director of the General Electric research laboratory.

DOUBLE GUIDES OPENER

Convention for Strong Opponent at Right of Three No Trump Bidder Tells Partner What to Lead.

By WM. E. MCKENNEY
Secretary, American Bridge League
Our final subject concerns the double of an adverse three no trump contract. This bid has also assumed a highly conventional meaning, and calls for a definite opening lead from your partner.

Of course, in both the preceding article and today's I have been discussing the double made by the defender who is not the opening leader. Where the doubler is the opening leader, these conventional doubles do not apply.

The conventional three no trump double requires your partner to make one of the following leads:

1. If the doubler has named a suit during the auction, partner must open that suit.
2. If the doubler has not named a suit during the auction, but the opening player has then the opening lead must be in the suit bid by the opening player.

If neither defender has bid a suit during the auction, the double demands an opening lead in the first suit bid by the dummy hand.

In today's hand, West should double North's three no trump contract, because that double will demand an opening club lead, the suit bid by the doubler. This opening should definitely defeat the contract.

If West fails to double, East may decide that North has the club suit well stopped and may, as a result, elect to open his own suit, in which case the three no trump contract will be fulfilled.

Before using these conventional doubles in an actual game, however, it is necessary for you to determine whether your partner is aware of them, since the conventions are comparatively new and are not used as extensively as they should be.

DOUBLE GUIDES OPENER

Convention for Strong Opponent at Right of Three No Trump Bidder Tells Partner What to Lead.

By WM. E. MCKENNEY
Secretary, American Bridge League
Our final subject concerns the double of an adverse three no trump contract. This bid has also assumed a highly conventional meaning, and calls for a definite opening lead from your partner.

Of course, in both the preceding article and today's I have been discussing the double made by the defender who is not the opening leader. Where the doubler is the opening leader, these conventional doubles do not apply.

The conventional three no trump double requires your partner to make one of the following leads:

1. If the doubler has named a suit during the auction, partner must open that suit.
2. If the doubler has not named a suit during the auction, but the opening player has then the opening lead must be in the suit bid by the opening player.

If neither defender has bid a suit during the auction, the double demands an opening lead in the first suit bid by the dummy hand.

In today's hand, West should double North's three no trump contract, because that double will demand an opening club lead, the suit bid by the doubler. This opening should definitely defeat the contract.

If West fails to double, East may decide that North has the club suit well stopped and may, as a result, elect to open his own suit, in which case the three no trump contract will be fulfilled.

Before using these conventional doubles in an actual game, however, it is necessary for you to determine whether your partner is aware of them, since the conventions are comparatively new and are not used as extensively as they should be.

Today's Contract Problem
With clubs trump, do you think declarer can play the hand so as not to lose a club trick? The hand, in fact, can be played for a grand slam.

WELCOMED FATHER'S RESCUE

It was a long, tearful vigil for curly-haired Ethel Scadding, fifteen, of Waukesha, Wis., praying as she awaited word that rescue workers in Moose River, N.S., at last had freed her father, Alfred Scadding, trapped for more than a week in a gold mine. Ethel's mother, who divorced Scadding in 1924, also waited anxiously for word of rescue of Scadding and Dr. D. E. Robertson, his companion. Ethel has corresponded with her father for the last eight years, and has been planning to visit him in June.

WOMEN BRAVEST IN DENTAL CHAIR

Associated Press
Boston, April 29. — Women may shrink and faint at the sight of a mouse, but when it comes to sitting in the dentist's chair and standing pain without a whimper, they put the stronger sex to shame.

Dr. Walter Emerson Briggs, instructor in dentistry at Tufts College, told members of the Massachusetts Dental Society here: "Men as a rule are very unreasonable patients. The language they use is not exactly polite. Women can take any kind of pain without a whimper."

HOW'S YOUR STOMACH?

YOU lose vital nerve force if you allow your stomach to distress you. Acid stomach, indigestion, gas or biliousness, and "costiveness" cause the blood to be poisoned and will eventually destroy health and nerve force. This is what Clarence House of 33 Main St., St. Catharines, Ont., said: "I had no pep, had to force myself to eat, and after eating, I would feel gas and suffer from indigestion and heartburn. I had some stomach quite a bit too. I used Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and it toned up my system so that I felt like a different man. The 'Discovery' helped to drive away the stomach distress and gave me an appetite. New size, tablets 50c, liquid $1.00 and $1.25."

Canadian Daughters Open Provincial Sessions in Vancouver

Vancouver, April 29.—A wide range of community interests was revealed in reports presented at opening sessions yesterday in the Hotel Georgia of the first annual meeting of the B.C. Council of the Canadian Daughters' League.

Peace movement, social legislation affecting women and children, better picture movement, current events study, drama and Canadian historical pageants presented by dramatic clubs, a national educational loan fund, assistance to the Crippled Children's Hospital, Tolmie Sanatorium, Institute for the Blind, a local orphanage and the Jubilee Cancer Fund are some of the projects undertaken by the league.

Individual assemblies have undertaken relief work and the Educational and Social Club has given assistance to the Girls' Co-operative Club.

All assemblies were represented at the Vancouver Folk Song and Dance Festival in the Canadian exhibit, and a float in the Dominion Day parade was sponsored.

The educational loan fund is assisting a university woman student, and is hoping to undertake another.

Urges Proper Teaching of Dramatic Art In Schools

Mrs. Elizabeth Haynes Tells Women's Canadian Club of Value of Experiments in Alberta; Ideal "to Talk With Assurance and Walk Divinely"

A plea for the proper teaching of dramatics to the youth of Canada as a means of imparting the old Greek ideal, "to talk with assurance and walk divinely," and to offset the present trend towards ugly, meaningless slang and poor carriage, was made in the delightful address given by Mrs. Elizabeth Haynes of Edmonton yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Haynes, who is director of dramatics at the University of Alberta, was addressing the Women's Canadian Club on the subject of "The Place of the Community Theatre in Life."

"How many children of today can walk or talk properly," she asked. The educational system concerned itself chiefly with filling children's heads with unrelated facts, without teaching them how to express themselves. Poise of body tends to a certain grace of spirit, and the voice is capable of two things—of saying words and giving them meaning.

Children should be taught dramatics, not with the idea of making them exhibitionists, which is entirely wrong, but with a view to teaching them the two ideals of the Greek theatre: "To walk divinely and to talk with assurance."

Such teaching in the schools would help to offset the modern tendency to employ meaningless and ugly slang, said Mrs. Haynes. She deprecated the use of such expressions as "It's a swell piece, it's a wow," to describe anything in laudatory vein, or "It's lousy," as a term of disparagement.

SHAKESPEARE BADLY TAUGHT

Canada prided itself on its culture, yet "Shakespeare, who wrote for a people who loved the ripe richness of the phrase, is taught so badly that the pupils are bored, and in the eyes of the adolescent the great dramatist has fallen into disrepute."

At the same time the speaker criticized the "strutting and bellowing" with which Shakespeare is so often interpreted today. While strutting and bellowing was admittedly in accordance with the Shakespearean tradition, it was out of place in the modern theatre, where the actor does not appear among the audience as in Elizabethan days, she noted.

ALBERTA EXPERIMENT

Mrs. Haynes spoke of a number of interesting experiments with community drama in Alberta, tiny isolated centres co-operating with a magnificent spirit, and children in rural schools responding with a zest and enthusiasm which had awakened a desire for culture and an appreciation of beauty remarkable in its results.

Quoting Goethe to the effect that "dramatic poetry is man's greatest achievement on the earth so far," the speaker observed that great theatre really arises from an exaltation of the spirit.

History showed that the great art form alone had saved nations from sinking into the forgotten limbo, the speaker said, expressing the hope that out of the present wave of popular feeling for the drama might emerge a really great Canadian poet and Canadian theatre.

HISTORY OF THEATRE

She traced the growth of the "art" which has changed so much, yet remained so much the same throughout the ages, from the days of ancient Greece. In Athens the actors were taught two great fundamentals: "To talk with assurance and to walk divinely." The audiences of those days were discriminating, applauding when pleased and booing when displeased with the acting, "and it is a pity we haven't audiences like that today," Mrs. Haynes commented.

SEEKING AFTER TRUTH

One characteristic of the modern theatre was a certain searching after truth, a revolt from the earlier part of this century when it was "in the hands of the money-changers." The speaker deplored the present-day focusing of attention upon the personal idiosyncracies of actors, as in the magazines and advertising addicted to movies. This was against the real spirit of acting, the real actor depending solely upon his great art and not upon cheap sex appeal, Mrs. Haynes said.

The Little Theatre movement was helping us to get back to the fact that the art of the theatre is the art of real motion, the actor being himself the instrument, the playing upon which was one of the most difficult of all the arts, she concluded.

CUP WINNER

Ronald McDonald of Victoria, who won the Women's Canadian Club cup in the recent Musical Festival, recited "Light the Lamps Up, Lamp-lighter," and "The Ballad of the Jelly-cake," and Miss Merle North, ably accompanied by Mrs. C. C. Warn, sang very beautifully "My Message" (d'Hardelot) and "Love Is the Wind."

Announcement was made that the next meeting would be on Friday, May 8, when Sir Ernest MacMillan will speak on "Canada at the Parting of the Ways in Music."

LESS WEeping AT WEDDINGS

Head of Brides' Service Bureau Gives Interesting Views

Associated Press
New York, April 29.—Note to June brides: "Men enjoy a wedding more than they used to; brides scarcely ever weep nowadays."

This came today from Marie Couderet Brenning, who has been supervising weddings for six years and is a sort of all-around errand girl to Cupid.

"I haven't seen a frightened bride-groom for ages," said Miss Brenning. "Men actually have begun to enjoy their weddings. One reason is that weddings go off today with few hitches."

Miss Brenning, looking about for a job after she left college, decided to create a bureau that would "render any service to any bride."

She comes on call to a bride's home and directs the whole wedding from rehearsal to the placing of the ushers' boutonnières; she advises on wedding etiquette, she even manages weddings by mail.

The average New York society wedding costs $5,000, Miss Brenning estimated. She has managed six $35,000 weddings, but staged one that cost $29.75. This was in the Blue Ridge Mountains of Virginia. She counselled the couple by mail. One of the $35,000 brides paid $600 for her shoes.

V.O.N. BOARD MEET IN EAST

Prime Minister Commends Its Service During Depression

Canadian Press
Ottawa, April 29.—Delegates from forty-five centres across the Dominion attended the first sessions of the thirty-eighth annual meeting of the board of governors of the Victorian Order of Nurses and were luncheon guests of Senator George P. Graham of Brockville yesterday.

Prime Minister Mackenzie King told delegates: "No individual, no group, no association can solve the problems with which our country and human lives are now confronted. There must be co-operative effort." He stressed that problems of each community were the same problems as those faced in greater degree by the state and the same services were needed in national matters as by communities.

FIVE POINTS STRESSED

The Premier picked out five points underlying the Victorian Order of Nurses' work which he believed necessary for success in meeting problems of depression: Service for the love of serving; individual initiative and self-reliance; voluntary service as contrasted with compulsory and inspiration leading to voluntary effort; desire to share in some way in voluntary effort for the good of others; co-operative action.

Mr. King contrasted the voluntary self-sacrificing effort of the miners who had risked their own lives for Dr. D. E. Robertson and Alfred Scadding at Moose River, N.S., with the selfish ambition of European dictators who would sacrifice thousands of lives to realize their aims.

He spoke of the two forces diametrically opposed in the work, one seeking to save by peace, work and health, the other with the object of destruction.

Lord and Lady Tweedsmuir attended the afternoon meeting at Government House.

FAMILY LIFE

Well-balanced family life is still the most important foundation of character, according to Miss Freda Held, assistant deputy minister of the department of public welfare, mothers' allowance commission, Toronto, speaking on "What Every Child Has a Right to Expect From Its Family."

She traced the change that had taken place in family life from the domestic era to the present industrial age. Community facilities for education and health should be used to augment the primary knowledge acquired almost unconsciously in the home by the child, she said. They should not be relied upon to furnish the whole of the child's education, however.

There is a certain point where family influence ends, and then, Miss Held said, the parents or relatives can rely on the community agents in health and educational work to give the child the training that they are unable to furnish.

WEDDINGS

SLEATOR-BRAND
In the vestry of St. Mary's Church, Oak Bay, yesterday evening, the wedding was quietly solemnized by Rev. Canon A. E. de L. Nunn of Margaret Dorothy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Brand, Vining Street, and Mr. Norman Slesor, elder son of Mrs. James Slesor, and the late Mr. Slesor of Courtenay.

The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a smart suit of midnight blue, a coral blouse and a Marina turban and veil to match the suit, and a shoulder spray of coral rosebuds. She was attended by Miss Eileen Eiler, wearing a powder blue suit, with grey accessories and a corsage bouquet of pink rosebuds and carnations. Mr. Howard Slesor supported his brother.

A small reception of relatives and a few intimate friends was held later in the dining-room at the Hotel Douglas, where supper was served from a table arranged with vases of tulips and narcissi, and lighted with tall ivory taper, and centred with the wedding cake. The bride's mother received the guests, wearing a gown of black lace and a shiny black straw hat with touches of white, and a corsage bouquet of red and white carnations.

After a honeymoon on the island, Mr. and Mrs. Slesor will return to Victoria to reside.

Among the gifts was a handsome china dinner service from the bride's friends at the Hudson's Bay Company, where she had been employed in the grocery department for a number of years.

Toby's eyes were wide with excitement. "Really?" she said. "Were they models once?"

"Certainly. Some of them have been in this office lots of times."

The voice of the girl at the desk interrupted. "Miss Ryan," she said. "Mr. Blake will see you now."

"Oh—thank you."

Toby entered the swinging gate and went down the corridor. Blake saw her in the doorway and smiled. "Good morning," he said. "Come in and sit down."

"Good morning," Toby said. "I took the chair facing him."

"Well," Blake began. "I suppose you'd like to see those pictures?"

"Yes, I would."

He opened a drawer of the desk, sorted through some photographs and took out several. "Here they are," he said. "What do you think of them?"

Toby could scarcely believe her eyes. Surely this girl with the glowing smile and sparkling eyes was not herself. She had never looked like that—never. And yet it was she!

"Oh, Mr. Blake—"

"Okay, aren't they?" He pointed to a full-length pose in which Toby appeared to be leaning against a rustic gate. Her head was thrown back, her hair bathed in golden light, her face radiant. "Nice shot," Blake commented. "I think we're going to turn you into a smile girl."

"A smile girl?" Toby repeated. Blake nodded. "Girls who can smile," he said. "I mean naturally, attractively and with animation—make more than anyone else in this business. They're the advertisers' pets. Nothing sells automobiles and soap and cosmetics and kitchen stoves like a pretty girl's smile. If you make good as a smile girl, you'll make money and so will we."

Toby smiled then. "I hope I can," she said.

"I hope so, too. How'd you like to start working today?"

"I'd love to."

"Good. Crown and French are making some commercial shots this evening, and I'm going to send you over, along with half a dozen others. You'll find you're liable to work nights as much as days in this business. We have no hours and all hours. Remember, no matter where you are, you must always keep in touch with this office. Leave word where we can reach you, or else call in. That's important. Now if you'll go out and ask Sally—she's the girl at the desk—she'll tell you about this assignment tonight—where you're to go, what to wear and all that."

Toby saw that she had been dismissed. She went back to the outer office and said to the girl at the desk, "Mr. Blake told me I'm to work tonight. He said you would tell me about it."

The other nodded. Turning through some cards on her desk, she said, "Yes, it's Crown and French's studio. They're in the building. Be there at 7:30 and you'll need only one dress. A white evening dress. It doesn't need to be elaborate. Slippers and light hose, of course."

She looked up then, read the other girl's expression. "Oh," said Sally, "haven't you a white evening dress?"

"No, I haven't," Toby hadn't an evening dress that was white or black or any color.

"That's too bad," the other said, frowning. "Well, I suppose we'll have to send someone else."

CHAPTER XII

The girl at the desk looked thoughtful. "Maybe," she said after a moment. "You could borrow a dress."

Toby knew she couldn't. In all New York there was no one from whom she could borrow a white evening dress. And she couldn't possibly buy one. Her purse contained less than $10. She was going to lose the chance she had dreamed of, the chance she had played for—because she didn't have a white evening dress. She said, trying to hide her disappointment, "I'll—I'll—"

And then the amazing thing happened. The girl in the grey fur coat had been standing with her back toward the other two. She turned now. "Listen, Sally," she said. "I've got a dress she can wear. I'm taller than she is, but we're about the same size otherwise."

"Oh—would you?" Toby's voice was eager.

"You'll probably have to turn up the hem," the girl in the fur coat went on. "But that's easy. I've got slippers to match—I think they'll fit you. What size do you wear?"

"Four-A."

"Then—that's all right. Mine are four-B, but nobody will know the difference."

The girl called, Sally said, with some uncertainty. "If you're sure the dress will be all right, Harriet—"

"Of course it will be all right! It's the one I wore for those movie cameras and a couple of weeks ago. Don't you remember? It's white satin—with a sort of a square neckline and a couple of rhinestone clips." Suddenly she looked at her wrist watch. "Heavens! I've got to run or I'll be late." Turning to Toby, she said, "I'm going to be working for about three hours, but after that I'll be home. Can you come over to my apartment—say about 5 o'clock? You can try on the dress and if it needs to be taken in or anything there'll be time to fix it." She gave Toby the address. "If I'm not there," she finished, "wait for me."

"I'll wait," Toby promised. "I don't know how to thank you—"

"Oh, you can do something for me some time," the other said easily. "See you later. Goodbye, Sally—"

The door closed on the words.

Toby said, "That's terribly nice of her. Why, she'd never even seen me until this morning!"

"Harriet's a good scout," the girl at the desk said. "Let's see—did I tell you the time you're to be at the studio—?"

The house in which Harriet Holm lived was in a row of houses, all much alike, on an east side street, boasting, to left and right, much more pretentious dwellings. Toby had no difficulty finding the address. She arrived a few minutes after 5, expecting that Harriet would be late. But she was mistaken: the door buzzed, releasing the lock, almost immediately after Toby pressed the bell.

She went inside, climbed the first flight of stairs. Then, from above, a head appeared over the banister and a voice called, "I hope you don't mind climbing! It's the top floor—"

Toby went up two more flights. Harriet Holm, clad in a becoming blue negligee, met her at the top step. "Those steps are terrible," she said. "I've climbed them myself so often I'm beginning to feel like a mountain goat! But I keep the place because it's rather nice, once you get up here—"

It was rather nice. The apartment was a huge room across the front of the house with three windows looking down on the street. Pale yellow draperies had been drawn back so that none of the afternoon light was lost. There were bookshelves, well filled, in the space between the windows. On one side a dark green davenport faced a coffee table, on which was a copper tray and vermillion coffee set. In the center of the opposite wall a piece of Chinese embroidery hung. Low, comfortable chairs stood before the windows and a leather footstool was pushed against the wall. There were splashes of color—dull blue, gold, sea green, and brown—in cushions and pictures and bits of pottery.

Toby said, "How lovely!"

"Like the place?" Harriet asked. "Here—let me take your coat. Sit down and make yourself comfortable. You need a rest after that climb—"

But Toby, instead, went to the window and looked out.

"It's the nicest room I've ever been in," she said. "How you must love it here!"

"I do like it," Harriet admitted. "I spent more furnishing the place than I should have, but, thank goodness, it's paid now. Well, I suppose you want to see that dress—"

She crossed the room and opened a door. "Here's another reason why I like this place. It's so hard to find an apartment with closet space."

Toby following, let out a low exclamation. The door opened on a closet that was almost another room. Hanging on bars, closely packed together, were rows and rows of dresses, suits, coats—dresses with full, trailing skirts and dresses that were severely tailored; valises; brightly colored cottons; filmy chiffons; a riding habit; a bright green jacket; swimming suits; tennis dresses; cute little shorts and brilliant-hued sweaters; dresses of blue, yellow, green, silver, maroon, purple, black and white; dresses of prints and plaids and polka dots. Above, piled high on shelves, were cardboard boxes.

Your Baby And Mine

BY MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

BABY'S VOMITING MAY BE CAUSED BY OVERFEEDING OR MALFORMATION

When the baby continually spits back some of his feeding the reason is often overfeeding. Too much food at each feeding, too many nursings per day or too strong or too rich a formula, are all responsible at times.

But babies do vomit because they have a personal sensitivity to milk, or sometimes because of some physical malformation of the stomach which encourages the expulsion of food. "Reasons for Vomiting," is a leaflet which tries to make plain the various conditions to which normal babies are subjected which may result in vomiting of food. A self-addressed and three-cent stamped envelope should be sent to Myrtle Meyer Eldred of the "Your Baby and Mine" department of this newspaper when asking for this leaflet.

"HE'LL OUTGROW IT"

Mrs. F.J.B. has tried five different types of milk and sugar in her effort to stop her baby's vomiting. "He weighed nearly nine pounds at birth, is now four and a half months old and weighs fifteen pounds," she writes.

"My doctor says the baby will outgrow it, but I am worried just the same. His present formula agrees with him just fine, but he still throws up."

"He has five feedings a day, gets the juice of half an orange and a prepared baby cereal and Graham crackers once daily. I plan to start feeding vegetables soon."

TIGHT GARMENT?

Your present formula is excellent and as the gain has been so good, it is evident that, while annoying, the baby's condition has not suffered from the vomiting. You might try bolting two tablespoons of any fine wheat cereal, or oatmeal with the water of the formula for one-half hour. Strain and make up with boiled water the amount called for in the formula and add this to the milk. Include the usual sugar. Then omit extra cereal.

A slightly thickened formula is often successful in such cases. Everything else would be continued as at present. Do you avoid handling the baby too much after a feeding; is he dressed so that no tight garments would encourage vomiting? Tomorrow: Warm, Not Smothering. Wraps are Required for Baby's Air-ing.

TODAY'S HEALTH QUESTION

Q.—Is there any chemical solution which will help a person detect his own bad breath?

A.—The substances causing the breath to be disagreeable vary in composition — if, indeed, all are known. It is quite improbable, therefore, that any single reagent can be prepared which would detect these substances, particularly in the relatively small amounts in which they occur. Probably the sense of smell of a person not afflicted would be vastly more sensitive than any chemical.

New, comprehensive series on "Your Baby's Health" begins in The Times tomorrow.

The painted lady butterfly is the most widely distributed butterfly in the world. In 1879, great flocks of these trail insects flew from Africa to Europe.

Asia is a land of extremes. Mount Everest, its highest peak, is approximately 29,000 feet above sea level, while the Dead Sea is 1,322 feet below sea level.

ALBERTA SCOUT IS GIVEN MEDAL

Canadian Press

Ottawa, April 29.—Scout John C. Ward, thirteen, of Grande Prairie, Alta., has been awarded the gilt cross medal by Lord Tweedsmuir, Chief Scout for Canada, for saving the life of a man who got in difficulty while swimming in the Peace River and successfully applying artificial respiration. The award was one of six made by the Governor-General to Scouts in Canada.

The Truth About Diet

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEL

This is the last of the series of articles on diet which I have written for about the last four months. The knowledge obtained from these articles should enable you to avoid deficiencies in your diet and obtain from your food the maximum benefits for health and for growth.

There is a great difference between just living and having the exuberant, buoyant feeling that comes with perfect condition of tissues and excellent nutrition.

Perhaps the most significant of all information offered in this series of articles is that concerning the protective foods, such as milk, fruits, vegetables, eggs, cod liver oil, liver, lamb's kidneys, and similar substances which are essential in providing the diet with necessary vitamins and mineral salts. These are likely to be taken in insufficient amounts, if one subsists largely on the meat, potatoes, vegetables and bread of a previous generation.

Dietary authorities recommend that at least half of the total intake of food consist of the protective foods. They suggest that at least as much money be spent for milk, cream, and cheese as for meat, fish and poultry; and at least half as much be spent for fruits and vegetables as for meats of all kinds.

The essentials of a well-balanced diet are those which provide, in the words of an authority, "Two or more liberal servings of fruits each day; two or more servings of vegetables daily, of which one should be a green or yellow vegetable, if practicable; about a quart of milk a day in some form, including, if desired, such equivalents as canned milk, milk powder, cheese, and cream, and an average of four or five eggs a week, more or less, depending on how well eggs agree, and their price."

This, however, is a rigid list and anyone with imagination may vary it to make a greater appeal to the appetite.

The information in this series is not scientific final word on nutrition and diet. Those who have been following the tremendous advances of the last twenty-five years know that we are only on the threshold of what we ultimately will be able to learn on this subject.

In addition to the research of scientists in laboratories of the great universities and schools of nutrition, manufacturers of food products have begun to realize that foods constitute the most important item in the American budget. All the great food industries have established laboratories in which research goes on constantly to determine how foods may be improved from the point of view of value in the diet and appeal to the appetite.

In the application of the newer dietary knowledge to the control of disease, physicians also are beginning to learn much that is new and significant. Newly discovered facts have changed our viewpoint regarding the relationship of certain dietary deficiencies to various diseases of some organs, to the breaking-down of bones and of teeth, to the occurrence of such conditions as pellagra, neuritis, scurvy, and similar deficiency diseases.

Some specialists, even, are prepared to say that we may eventually be able to improve the human mind by modifying the diet.

As a result of our new knowledge, children are growing bigger and taller, and they weigh more than did their ancestors. And we know that it is possible for them to live a little longer.

That is certainly more than enough to warrant widespread dissemination of the "Truth About Diet."

FEDERAL AID FOR FISHERMEN

Commons Discusses Bill to Help Find New Vocations; Neil Wants Gulf of Georgia Cleared of Blackfish

Canadian Press

Ottawa, April 29.—A move on the part of the government to assist in finding other callings for fishermen no longer able to make a living in that occupation was the subject of a lively discussion in the House of Commons yesterday evening.

Robert E. Pinn, Liberal member for Halifax, said the appropriation of $300,000 was wholly inadequate, and when Hon. J. E. Michaud, Minister of Fisheries, explained its purpose, claimed what was needed was assistance for the men who were fishing more than re-establishing in other occupations fishermen who ceased to fish.

"This vote is an emergency vote," said Mr. Michaud, "or one to help provinces to discharge their obligation towards individuals who no longer find it profitable to exercise their rights to use the fisheries. That is why we have to co-operate with the provinces. We cannot dictate to provincial authorities as to what modes they shall adopt in the re-establishment measures they may take."

Earlier, during private members' hour, the House had discussed the bill of Thomas Reid, Liberal, New Westminster, to prohibit seine fishing in the Gulf of Georgia on the grounds it was the "most destructive form of fishing we have."

Mr. Reid read numerous letters he had received in response to a suggestion an attack be made on blackfish in the Gulf of Georgia because they destroyed salmon.

In December he got a letter saying it would be difficult to catch a few blackfish to have the contents of their stomachs examined, but it might be done. Then, to show the "rapid progress" that was made, Mr. Reid read a letter he received in February which said the catching of a few of these fish was "under consideration."

Mr. Michaud said some of Mr. Reid's observations were constructive and would be considered. Replying to Mr. Pinn, Mr. Michaud said it was proposed to make agreements with the provinces for expenditure of the appropriation and it was expected the provinces concerned would contribute on a fifty-fifty basis. It was in the nature of relief.

WOULD END TRAP FISHING

A few suggestions for helping fishermen outlined by Mr. Reid relating especially to the Pacific Coast were:

Abolish trap fishing, reduce the price of gasoline by lowering the tariff, restrict seine fishing, restore the bounty for killing half seals, extend the killing of sea lions by fisheries patrol boat crews and drive the blackfish out of the Gulf of Georgia.

Conservative Leader Bennett said the difficulties in the way of ending the appropriation in co-operation with the provincial governments would prove embarrassing.

Among $5,000 fishermen $300,000 would not go far, but if they were to be re-established, the Dominion must assume full control of its money.

DIFFERENTIAL IS EXPLAINED

Ford Company Executive Compares U.S. and Canadian Car Costs

Windsor, Ont., April 29.—The fiction that Canadian consumers pay out "untold millions" in the form of price differentials on motor cars and parts in order to maintain the motor car manufacturing industry in Canada was blasted here yesterday by Wallace R. Campbell, president of the Ford Motor Company of Canada Ltd. in his address at the annual meeting of Ford shareholders.

Mr. Campbell's exposition was based upon the situation so far as the Ford Motor Company in Canada is concerned.

He showed that:

1. The net differential over U.S. wholesale prices for comparable products, exclusive of net duties and taxes on imported materials in the value of the wholesale business done by Ford of Canada in 1935 was only $2,960,946.

2. The gross differential was $4,400,846, the wholesale price of Ford products sold in Canada that year being $23,494,696.

3. The gross differential was partially offset by approximately $1,500,000 representing duties and taxes paid to the Dominion Government on imported materials, thus reducing the net price differential to the figure stated.

4. The total of wages, salaries and other Canadian disbursements arising from Ford manufacturing operations in Canada amounted to more than eleven times the net differential Canadian over U.S. prices.

BIG WAGE LIST

5. Wages and salaries paid to Ford employees in Canada amounted to $10,713,381, or more than three and one-half times this net differential.

6. The net value of Ford purchases of Canadian materials, supplies and miscellaneous services was $19,059,408, or more than six times this net differential.

7. Payments to federal, provincial and municipal taxing authorities in Canada, apart from custom duties, amounted to $752,537, an amount equal to approximately 25 per cent of the net differential.

8. Ford payments to Canadian transportation systems alone amounted to $3,384,847 and that if Ford products now made in Canada were imported from the United States there was every reason to believe that the Canadian transportation systems alone would lose in revenue as much as the net price differential.

PAY OUT $25,600,000

"Summing up the payments made by this company in direct wages and salaries to its own employees, and the value of goods and services bought from other Canadian suppliers, the taxes paid (exclusive of duties) to various taxing authorities and the payments made to Canadian transportation systems, our Canadian disbursements in these four categories reach a total of $25,600,000," Mr. Campbell declared.

"The greater part of this total represents direct or indirect payments to Canadian workmen of wages which are almost entirely dependent upon the manufacture of our products in Canada."

Further emphasizing the value of the Ford industry in Canada, Mr. Campbell showed that the company in 1935 paid out $1.47 for every $1 received for its Canadian customers.

"The total value of all our sales in Canada during 1935 was $25,600,337 compared with Canadian disbursements of $25,600,965 exclusive of custom duties, or $35,469,963 when custom duties are included," he continued. "It is therefore apparent that we spent in Canada about $11,500,000 more than we received from our Canadian customers."

BALANCE BENEFITS CANADA

"This expenditure in Canada, being $1.48 for every $1 received from our Canadian customers, arises to some extent from the high proportion of Canadian labor and materials used in our product but mostly from the high priced stage of our product that is exported. Since approximately half the Ford output produced in Canada during recent years (measured in dollars) has been exported it follows that the volume of economic activity in Canada is about twice as large as it would be if we were limited to the Canadian market."

TAXES INCLUDED

Mr. Campbell also showed that the average retail price of a Ford car in Canada now includes more than $1 in taxes including sales taxes and provincial license fees.

"It is not reasonable to hold the industry responsible for costs due to taxation," he continued.

"With the inclusion of custom duties with the records show taxes paid to federal, provincial and municipal government during 1935 (approximately $3,384,847) amounted to almost 10 per cent of the entire value of exports from Canada. This statement refers only to taxes falling upon the cost of production and directly paid by this company and its suppliers prior to the sale of this product. It does not include sales taxes upon the value of the completed vehicle or provincial license fees, which together amount to an average of $64.86 per vehicle. It has been ascertained that the average retail price of a Ford car in Canada now includes $100 in taxes which are visible and identifiable as such."

B.C. SHARES IN GAINS IN WORK

This District and Maritime Provinces Reported April Employment Above March; All-Canada April 1 Figure Above April 1, 1935

Ottawa, April 29.—A considerable gain was recorded in the employment situation in Canada on April 1 compared with the corresponding date last year, according to the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.

In comparison with the previous month, however, a decline was shown due to the usual between-season contraction, mainly from the release of bushmen before any considerable number could be absorbed into other industries opening up in the spring.

A total of 9,474 employers showed an aggregate payroll of $18,716, compared with 9,066 establishments with $18,556 on April 1, 1935. On March 1 of this year 953,221 persons were employed.

The crude index, on the base 1926 equals 100, showed a decline from 98.9 on March 1 to 97.4 on April 1, but was higher than any other year since 1931 on this date.

The index figures on April 1 for previous years, follow: 1925, 98.4; 1926, 100; 1927, 98.7; 1928, 98.4; 1929, 97.7; 1930, 97.8; 1931, 97.5; 1932, 97.4; 1933, 97.5; 1934, 97.8; 1935, 98.9.

In comparison with the previous month the most pronounced contraction was in logging, following a season of considerable activity, while a considerable reduction was also reported in construction. Declines were also shown in employment in trade, coal mining, hotels and restaurants, and railway operations, while on the other hand improvement was reported in manufacturing and metallic ore mining.

WANT STABLE TARIFF

"As this industry can only exist in Canada under a reasonable measure of tariff protection, the future can be viewed with confidence only when the tariff structure affecting it is stabilized on an equitable basis. Tariffs affecting the automobile and allied industries in Canada, have been in a state of chaos since 1926. While the right of Parliament to increase or decrease duties or taxes or to industry should fairly expect a reasonable degree of continuity in tariff policy. It is only on condition that we can make rational plans for the future."

Mr. Campbell reported total sales in 1935 to have been 79,844 units, of which 32,309 went to the domestic market and 47,535 to export territories. Total volume of sales amounted to $46,593,124, employment in 1935 was maintained at a high level, total wages and salaries paid amounting to $10,713,381, the highest total since 1929. Average employment was 7,274. In comparison, total wages and salaries paid in 1934 amounted to $6,490,114, number of employees being 4,758.

HIGH AVERAGE

Mr. Campbell reported the average number of employees on hourly rates in 1935 was 6,999. Their total wages earnings $9,954,015, an individual average of $1,421 for the year. There is not now and never has been, he added, "an arbitrary age limit in our shops. An analysis made in August of 1935 of the payroll at the Windsor factory (not including salaried employees) showed that a quarter of our employees were forty-five years of age or over. The average length of employment of all employees at the time was 7.4 years."

Mr. Campbell reported that substantial progress is being made in the Windsor plant expansion programme, where the new cast steel foundry capacity is being doubled and new equipment installed in the power house to increase its power capacity from 13,000 to 35,000 kilowatts.

One of the most beautiful sights in the Hawaiian Islands is the moonlight rainbow.

ALLEN YUILL OF VANCOUVER DIES

North Vancouver, April 29.—Funeral service was held today for the late Allen Yuill, pioneer resident of this city.

Mr. Yuill was born in Quebec eighty-four years ago and left home when only eleven years old to make the long trek overland to this coast. He was a member of the party that surveyed the boundary line between Canada and the United States and on arrival here became engaged in the lumbering and later in the fishing industry.

He retired some years ago, but remained active up to the time of his death.

Canadian Pacific Earnings Higher

Montreal, April 29.—Increase of $300,407 was shown today in March net profits of Canadian Pacific Railway of $1,347,733, compared with $1,147,335 for the corresponding month in 1935.

Gross earnings of $10,679,577 were $1,103,969 higher at $9,515,608, while working expenses advanced $663,471 to $9,351,843 compared with $8,469,572.

Gross earnings were up $2,845,721 at $29,283,993, compared with $26,438,271, while working expenses of $25,458,289 were $2,119,713 higher than those of $24,338,576.

Need of AmateursMiss Nellie Cornish Says at Drama Festival There Is Scarcity of Them; Urges Players Never to Shout,
But to Hold Their Audiences"There is a great need on this continent for good plays. I quite realize the difficulty of finding plays," said Nellie Cornish of Seattle when adjudicating the four plays presented yesterday evening at the Shrine Auditorium during the course of the week's Drama Festival. None of the four plays, in her opinion, were really worth the presentation.Miss Cornish, in her adjudications, gave some valuable advice to amateur players. She urged them never to shout. The idea of "everyone must hear" was overdone, she said."If you carry people with you, you will be heard, even if you only whisper," she said. "But you must hold the attention of your audience.
You must enter into the spirit of the play. You must look at each other and listen to each other. It is most important to establish the mood of your play.""When I was in New York I saw Jane Cowl in 'The First Lady,' and because she shouted I felt I had said two farewells, one to Toscanini and the other to Jane Cowl. I don't ever want to hear her again, because she shouted such a phrase as 'Pick up my handkerchief!'"She urged amateur players to "have variety in your speech and be natural."

FORBES-ROBERTSON PLAYERS

"Had the setting in this play been better I would have been more interested," said Miss Cornish in speaking of the Forbes-Robertson Players in "Ladies in Linen." by Albert Baker and under the direction ofEthel Reese Burns, with costumes by Mrs. H. T. Goodland."This was not a very good play. It was very hard to mark. It was too slow. The settings were wrong. There was no climax, no tragedy—it was just unimportant. As a whole it was not worth while. You just wondered why do it?"In this play were Audrey Hadow as Sally Gale, Gertrude Partridge as the Newspaper Woman and the Blonde,
Grace Tuckey as the Brunette, Doreen McGregor as the Nurse, Theresa Low-den as the Stage Lady (she merited special mention), Ethel Reese Burns as Julie and Philippa Shaw as the Debutante.

THE BEAUX ARTS

"I think they did an awfully good job of the characterization and the make-up," said Miss Cornish of "What Never Dies," by Percival Wilde, given by the Beaux Arts under the direction of Elsie Cole. "But Mrs.
Daugherty (Olivia Bayley) really wasn't a scrubwoman. She burlesqued her part. It gets a laugh, but it is not good theatre. The players were not seriously cleaning the office in this play. Of course, I realize they don't know much about janitor work."Other characters in this play were Daphne Holmes as Mrs. Finello, Constance Hobbs as Mrs. Ashbruster and Peter Sartori-White as Jackie.

COWICHAN PLAYERS

Of "Portrait of a Gentleman in Slippers," by A. A. Milne, given by the Cowichan Players under the direction of Mollie Bigwood, Miss Cornish said: "Quite the best balanced play of any I have seen so far. But it was hardly worth the time spent putting it on. It was well produced, simply and sincerely done."She said she quite agreed with one of her students who said this play was "typically Milne."Characters in this play were A. deC.
Denny as the King, Gordon Appleby as Brenda, May Lundie as the Prince and A. S. M. Appleby as the Stranger.

NEFTON COLLEGE

"Where a group has as many good performers as this I think the direc-tor deserves a hand," Miss Cornish said in her adjudication of "The Hand of a Child," adapted by E. F.
Roberts from George Eliot's "Silas Marner," and presented by the Sefton College Players under the direction of E. F. Roberts.Characters were Laureen Duncombe as Silas Marner, Helen Porter as Nancy Lammett, Norah Mann as Priscilla Lammett, Maureen King as the young maid, Margaret McMartin as the boy, Doreen Lally as Mrs. Winthrop, Irene Webb as Mrs. Kimble and Betty Jeanerret as Eppie.

MAYOR AS SPEAKER

Mayor coming, introduced by H. G.
Hinton, was the guest speaker of the evening. He said festivals had a wonderful influence in bringing about a better understanding of the drama. He said they were one of the cultural movements of Canada. He bespoke a hearty welcome to Victoria to Miss Cornish and hoped her visit would be a pleasant one. He urged those in attendance to realize the position of an adjudicator was not an easy one.

TONIGHT'S PROGRAMME

Tonight's plays will be "Potato tucket Light," by "Wipe Away the Blood" and "Cromwell's Chair," all by the dale and the fourth also by a Victorian, Constance Gilmour.GOERING DIRECTS

Montreal, Tell of Saving of Lives in Nova Scotia MineCanadian Press
Montreal, April 29.—All the gold in Nova Scotia would not entice burly Jack Simpson and George Morrell, one of his fellow draegermen, to re-enter the crumbling Moos River Gold Mine, from which last week they helped rescue Dr. D. S. Robertson and Alfred Scadding of Toronto.But if it were to save a human life—
"Well," Morrell drawled as he lay back on a hotel bed, waiting to entrain for Toronto, "that's different.
You see, that's what we crazy guys do for a living. And I guess we'll just keep on doing it. Isn't that right, Jack?"Over in the corner Jack sat resting his legs, swollen from the strain and dampness of the long, punishing shifts through which they worked with their fellow miners to achieve the rescue of the imprisoned doctor and his companion.Simpson, a rosy-complexioned, pudgy fellow, "well up in his forties," looked at the light through an amber-filled tumbler."I guess you're right, George," he mused. "Then he hit off the end of a cigar with a chuckle. "But I'm not anxious to go down that Reynolds shaft again."

CRAWLED OVER EACH OTHER

A demonstration on the carpet by Morrell made that easily appreciated.
"I'll just show you how we got up to the front of the tunnel where we were digging through," volunteered Morrell, a lanky, loose-jointed man about forty years old, who has been working in mines since he was a small boy. He lay on the floor with his arms close to his sides to show how the relieved miner would have to crawl over him in a hunched position to reach the furthest end of the burrow."You see," he explained, "the other chap would crawl up there and then the fellow on the ground would get up again and rest in the background for a while. Then the other guy would lie down in the muck, and they'd change again."They weren't anxious to tell newspapermen about the harrowing hours they spent, plugging relentlessly in that dark cavern that eventually was to lead them to the side of the two imprisoned men and the body of their companion, Herman Magill, trapped with them Easter Sunday night."But I'll say this," Morrell said with emphasis. "If they had let us go ahead in our own way before they did, we would have had those men out long before ten or eleven days, or whatever time they were trapped there."

ON THE STAGE

The idea of going to Toronto to appear on the stage was to them something of a task. It was indefinite, they said during an interview between their arrival from Hal-fax and their departure for Toronto, just where they would go from the Ontario capital."Maybe through the mining towns of northern Ontario," suggested the dapper theatrical agent who has booked them for a series of appearances in Toronto."Yes, and maybe back home," Morrell muttered aside to a reporter. "I have to get home in about three weeks. Maybe I'll be the father of twins.""Ah, he's nervous about the idea of going on the stage," the agent said.
"Yah, and who isn't?" asked Simpson.

TO DIG COAL AGAIN

"When their tour is over they will go back to digging coal and carrying on their rescue work in the Stellarton mines.""We've retired now," said Morrell.
"That is—for about three weeks. The doctor told us to take a little holiday.
When it's over we'll crawl back into a hole somewhere.""Ah, let's not talk of that," Simpson suggested.Nor would they talk any more about their part in the rescue work.
They admitted it was one of the most thrilling moments of their lives when they heard the voices of Dr.
Robertson and Scadding. But they did not consider it the most dangerous task of their long careers."We did what we set out to do," Morrell said with finality, "and that's all there is to it. And just this: 'If they had kept on blasting through that other solid rock shaft they were trying to put through, those men would have been killed. The ceiling would have fallen on them.'"TWO GOING IN SEARCH OF GOLD

Canadian Press

Hazelton, B.C., April 29.—Harry Kremsmeyer, twenty-one-year-old unemployed truck driver from Waldwick, N.Y., and a hitch-hiking prospector he once befriended, were en route for the Yukon today in search of gold.Kremsmeyer and H. E. Myers, one-time resident of Hazelton, arrived here about twelve days ago and spoke of examining silver properties. Neither had any property here and after staying a week they departed by train for the Yukon. They said they intended staying in the Yukon until winter.Reports from Waldwick, N.Y., quoted Rev. W. Falls-Hunter as saying Kremsmeyer had been offered partnership in a Hazelton silver mine by a hobo to whom he had once given 50 cents. The Waldwick report gave the hobo's name as "Jack Fisher.""Drive yourself" auto rental service

Ottawa, April 29.—Words of highest tribute to the Nova Scotia and Ontario miners who risked their lives to rescue Dr.
D. S. Robertson and Alfred Scadding, Toronto, from the Moos River, N.S., Gold Mine and to recover the body of Herman Magill of Toronto, were heard in the Senate yesterday evening.From both Liberal and Conservative leaders expressions of warmest praise were uttered, too, for the courage displayed by the entombed men. It was the first action of the Upper House on reconvening after its Easter recess.

I have seldom heard of such an event focusing the thought of all Canadians, in fact of all countries who were apprised of what was going on," Senator Raoul Dandurand, Liberal leader, said. Seldom, if ever, had such an interest been taken in any event as was manifested in the Moos River rescue and in the courage displayed by the miners who had worked to save the trapped men."The miners gave their time freely and willingly and risked their lives day and night, replacing one another in squads, constantly forcing their way to reach the three men," Senator Dandurand said. These courageous miners had come not only from Nova Scotia but from Ontario, as well.

THE SPORTS MIRROR

CASTING about for a crowd-pleaser which would give some value to the fence around Macdonald Park, certain forces in Victoria's cricket inner circle are considering the possibility of re-establishing the old Pacific Coast conference.

At present the fence at the enclosure serves largely as a goal for heavy-hitters who aim to put balls over it. As far as cricketers are concerned, it has hardly proved a means of securing more gate money, since the appeal of the game, as played during recent seasons, has not been sufficient to draw cash customers in any numbers.

Those who spend their spare time at the nets tell us cricket is a very fine game. But the fact remains the spectator interest has held at a low ebb, which would have daunted almost any sporting organization without the fortitude the cricketers display.

This year the sport hopes to see a temporary revival with the added interest given by moving picture stars in play. But to make the game worthwhile from a spectator interest, something in addition must be done.

Hence old followers, with the memory of former coast fixtures still in mind, think the inclusion of Seattle, possibly Portland, Hollywood, San Diego and other United States points in a regular league, might provide the best required to put the game across.

Nothing boosts a sport as much as outside competition of high calibre. Those who favor the scheme might well work for its application in their efforts to increase the popularity of cricket.

There is a chance that Bobby Pearce, who swept the rowing field, amateur and professional, like Joe Louis is trying to clean up the fight business, may appear on the coast this summer.

Bobby, facing a fairly slack season down in his adopted Hamilton, is prepared to come west for a series of exhibition races this year if a sufficient guarantee can be arranged. Negotiations will go forward shortly to see whether or not the necessary money is forthcoming.

Pearce has few equals in the world of sport. As an amateur he raced through the ranks of challengers to win a couple of Olympic titles, the Diamond Sculls and the British Empire crown to establish himself at the top of the slalom-punt race. Since he has been a professional he has won the world's championship and has made challenges to his supremacy look bad. If he could be secured to appear in Victoria, his exhibition would be quite a boost for rowing.

Torchy Feden, who has made headlines for years as a bike rider, and who has sprang into prominence more recently in stories of wedding bells and a baroness (the latter was denied), has hit the spotlight again. Now the husky Victorian has announced his intention of going in for a political career. He hopes, according to Gordon Sinclair, Toronto writer, to make the first step in British Columbia via the provincial Legislature.

Torchy's bike riding should have given him a good foundation for politics. He's an artist at going around and around and a past master at avoiding collisions.

In the south of France, where he is rounding into shape after his long lay-off, Fred Perry, Britain's net ace, talked tennis recently. If the United States still had Ellsworth Vines as an amateur, it would regain the Davis Cup, he said.

"Of all the I've played, Vines was the only one I really feared. In six matches against him, I was lucky to win two," Perry is quoted as saying.

Fred, according to reports, is regaining his old touch after being off the courts for months with a back injury which at one time was expected to keep him out of first-class play. In Riviera tournaments recently he showed splendid form on angle shots and volleyed faultlessly.

Fred Cady, Los Angeles, superman in the development of fancy divers, figures he has a ringer who will top off the exploits of United States fair sex performers in Olympic competi-

VICTORIA BOYS ALL READY FOR GRUDGE SERIES

Players Who Met in Play-off Here Last Year Do Battle Again

GOLDSMITH AND MARTIN ARE SET

Windsor, Ont., April 29.—Monarchs of Canadian basketball for two years, nine young giants from the Pacific Coast prepared today for their last and probably toughest bid for another national title.

Victoria Dominoes, who won the title before as Blue Ribbons in 1933 and 1935, meet Windsor Fords, eastern Canadian champions, at Kennedy Collegiate tonight in the first of a best-of-five series for the Dominion crown and a trip to the Olympic Games in Berlin.

Windsor, a great basketball town that hasn't had a national senior title since 1928 when Windsor Alumni won, was expected to fill the large collegiate stands for each of the games.

The western players under Manager Dave Nicol were given a warm welcome by hundreds of fans, a band and most of the city council when they arrived here yesterday afternoon. Nicol said his players were in perfect shape after the trip from Winnipeg.

A really great series is in prospect, Victoria, with all but one of its players towering to or over the six-foot mark, depends upon its enormous height and an almost uncanny ability at long-range shooting. Windsor, on the small side physically, counts on some of the fastest-breaking sharpshooters ever to step on a Canadian court.

GRUDGE SERIES

In a way, too, there will be a grudge to add spice to an already tempting dish for lovers of the sport. Last year the Dominoes, then the Blue Ribbons, defeated Assumption College, another Windsor team, in a hard-fought final series played on the coast. The easterners thought they had none the better of the officiating and they didn't hesitate saying so. Among the most severe critics of the Ribbons were Gordie Aitchison, Irving (Toots) Meretaky and Stanley (Red) Nantais, and now all three sport Port uniforms.

As to condition, both teams are near peak form though they will probably be in better shape for the second game than for the first. Dominoes reached here yesterday after a tough series with Winnipeg-Toliers in the Manitoba city last week-end. Fords, on the other hand, are expected to suffer from idleness. They have had no competition since April 18, when they defeated Ottawa Rangers in the third and deciding game of the eastern Canada finals.

In one way the layoff has benefited the Windsorites. Several of them, notably Jimmy Stewart and Ian Allison, veterans but still the fastest-breaking players on the team, were badly bruised in that series and needed time to recuperate. Allison, in particular, was in bad shape. As a matter of fact, he is none too well yet, for he has developed water on the knee and will go into the present series against the better judgment of his physician.

Albert (Red) Martin and Ollie Goldsmith, Dominoes, were favoring injured limbs when the Victorians drilled yesterday evening, but neither expected to be bothered by them to-night. Martin had a tightly bandaged ankle but reported it gave him little trouble, while Goldsmith was favoring a knee whose ailment Manager Dave Nicol said had been troubling him slightly all season.

tion. His hope is thirteen-year-old Marjorie Geestring.

She will meet Florida's little Mary Hoeger in June to strive for a place on the U.S. team on its way to Berlin. When the pair meet it will see a resumption of that old California-Florida rivalry and should produce diving of a particularly high calibre.

According to Cady, who brought out Georgia Coleman and the Galitzen brothers, Mickey and Johnny Riley as they are known, as well as Dutch-Smith, the new find has more ability than any woman diver he has seen. If that's the case, it looks rather hopeless for other nations in the coming Olympic Games as far as women's springboard work is concerned.

Line-ups For Cage Battle

BYE LOIN TRACK WIN

Major A. C. Taylor's Filly Captures Feature at Bay Meadows Track

San Mateo, Cal., April 29.—Bye Lo, member of the crack A.C.T. Stock Farm Stable, owned by Major A. C. Taylor, Vancouver, won her second race in less than a week by galloping off with yesterday's feature at Bay Meadows track. It was a six-furlong sprint in 1:12 2-5.

The four-year-old chestnut filly, a stablemate of the Kentucky Derby entry, Indian Broom, outsped the field from the head of the stretch to win by a neck. Jockey Noel Richardson held Bye Lo under restraint for the early running.

Amy Cooper, the pace setter, held on to take second, while Mr. Bun claimed the third position.

The winner paid $5.40, $3.60 and $2.80. Amy Cooper returned $6.60 and $4.80, and Mr. Bun $5.50.

BIG HANDICAP

Azacur, ex-steepchaser, owned by Fred M. Alger Jr. of Detroit, was assigned high weight of 124 pounds for the $10,000 added one and one-sixteenth miles Bay Meadows Handicap, to be run May 9.

The winner of the 1935 $100,000 Santa Anita Handicap will carry seven pounds more than Special Agent, owned by Major A. C. Taylor of Vancouver.

Other weights: Dark Winter, 114; Jovins, 106; Campillo, 108; Bahamas, 107; Upemost, 106; Ebony Lady, 106; Arson, 103; Mickey's Man, 103; Chartres, 101; Budding Star, 90.

British amateurs and professionals broke even yesterday in exhibition matches with the United States women's golf team here to defend the Curtis Cup starting May 6.

The home golfers won three matches from the Americans, lost three and halved two of the eight four-ball mixed matches over the nine-hole Leeds Castle course.

The visitors left for Glenageary, where the Curtis Cup matches will be played.

Results follow: Olenna Collett Vane, Philadelphia, and Alf Padgham defeated Cecil Leith, four times British champion, and Alex Hurd, 2 and 1. Maureen O'Connell, Crowe, Coral Gables, Fla., and Abe Mitchell defeated Isabella Rieben and J. H. Taylor, 2 up.

STRANGE AS IT SEEMS

—By John Hix

Strange as it seems, the mysterious power that Bottineau possessed by which he could see incoming ships still far beyond the horizon was a mystery even to himself. This man, who had a government job on the island of Mauritius, then a French possession, accurately predicted the arrival of ships at the island long before others could see them. He could somehow see the ships approaching the island several days before they were actually in sight.

When his reputation for predicting the arrival of incoming ships spread through the island, the French governor, Vicomte de Souillac, requested that Bottineau make daily written predictions concerning the arrival of ships. This Bottineau did, and it was definitely shown that he could tell in advance when any ship was approaching. If several ships were approaching the island, he could foretell that, too. The one apparent error of his predictions turned out to be his best claim for infallibility. It sometimes happened that Bottineau would say a ship was on its way toward the island, but no ship would arrive to bear him out. Although in these instances Bottineau seemed to be wrong, it was later proved that ships had actually approached the island, but had gone away again without coming within sight.

Bottineau refused to tell his secret, claiming that the offer made to him was not enough. In about 1784, after twenty years on the island, Bottineau sailed away for France and was never heard of again. He left papers, later discovered, in which he apparently tried to explain his power, but his explanation was vague and worthless—an indication that not even Bottineau knew the real secret of his strange power.

Linke Misses Heating Pad

Hurler of Washington Senators Fails to Get Far Against Detroit Without the Use of His Frank Equipment; Failure Causes Much Discussion

Washington, D.C., April 29.—Without his much-publicized central heating pad, now under official ban, Washington's right-handed Ed Linke had rather a bad day of it yesterday on the mound facing Detroit Tigers, who chased him to the showers in the sixth inning after belting him for nine hits and six runs.

Linke stated before the game that because the weather was warm he didn't need the heating pad, which he was wont to keep in his pocket to warm his fingers on cold days.

But considerable discussion was evoked after yesterday's performance and the matter bide fair to become the Dreyfus case of baseball, or at least a cause celebre of sorts.

Blood circulation in Linke's arm has been poor since last summer when his pitching arm went dead on him.

The Detroit Tigers discovered Linke's chemical pad during the spring training season and when word finally got around to President William A. Harridge of the American League he forbade its use as "a foreign substance."

The Lower Island Softball Association will hold its annual meeting in the Y.M.C.A. tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock. Election of officers and arrangement of activities for the season will feature the meeting.

STEELE IS ANOTHER UP

Tacoma Middleweight Hands Tony Fisher Bad Beating; Waits For Risko

Seattle, April 29.—Freddie Steele, 157, Tacoma, introduced at ringside as the "world's uncrowned middleweight champion," lived up to the title yesterday evening with a convincing ten-round victory over Tony Fisher, 160, rugged Newark, N.J., brawler.

And today Steele and his rotund manager, Dave Miller, awaited some indication from the Babe Risko camp as to when a title bout may be arranged. Steele whipped Risko in ten rounds here recently. Risko is still on the coast.

Steele won every round yesterday evening, knocking down Fisher three times, the first trips to the canvas the Newark boy ever took.

Other results: Mike Payan, 152½, San Diego, decimated Midnight Bell, 153½, Portland (eight); Jimmy Thomas, 129½, Pittsburgh, outpointed Buzz Brown, 127, Portland (eight); Vern McGraw, 146, Edmonds, and Dick Gerrard, 149, Vancouver, B.C., drew (four); Cal McGraw, 127, Edmonds, and Eddie Ryan, 127, Vancouver, B.C., drew (four).

Hold Balance of Power in First Engagements With Western Teams in Major Leagues; Three Fine Hurling Performances Seen Yesterday

By ANDY CLARKE
The eastern teams are off to a good start in the campaign against their rivals from the west, where both major league pennants wave.

The first inter-sectional brushes of the season over, the eastern clubs find themselves with five victories, against one for the clubs from the inland cities.

The Detroit Tigers downed the Washington Senators 8 to 1 yesterday—long victory for the west, in the National League the Pittsburgh Pirates went down before the Phillies 9 to 7, and the juvenile Cincinnati Reds were defeated 5 to 3 by the Boston Bees. In American League encounters, the New York Yankees shut out the Cleveland Indians 2 to 0, the Boston Red Sox beat the Chicago White Sox 11 to 8 and the Philadelphia Athletics defeated the St. Louis Browns 4 to 2.

Three fine pitching performances were turned in with Charley Ruffing, the big Yankee flinger, topping the others with a four-hit shut-out over the Indians.

Harry Kelley, the thirty-year-old rookie of the Athletics, let the Browns down with six hits and two runs. Lefty Joe Sullivan, making his first start of the season for the Tigers, held the Senators to eight hits.

FIRST HOME RUN

Hank Greenberg got his first home run of the year as the Tigers lambasted Washington, twister Goose Goslin also hit for the circuit.

Cy Blanton, sensational rookie of last season, was knocked from the box for the fourth time this season as the Phils downed the Bees. He lasted only three and two-thirds innings. Old Tom Zachary started on the mound for the Phils, but was shelled from the mound after five and one-third innings.

The Red Sox murderers' row took kindly to the offerings of four Chicago pitchers, getting sixteen hits with Jimmy Fox hitting his fifth homer of the year.

Roy Benge, pitcher for the Bees, held the Reds hitless for five innings. The Bees made fourteen hits off the giants of Paul Derringer in the eighth inning.

Rain and wet grounds caused postponement of the New York-St. Louis and Brooklyn-Chicago games.

Pay Up Winner of Two Thousand Guineas In Great Finish

BEATSMAHMOUD BY SHORT HEAD IN WIRE DRIVE

Lord Astor's Brown Colt Covers One Mile at Newmarket in 1:39 3-5

Favored Daytona In Ninth Place

Newmarket, England, April 29.—Lord Astor's Pay Up today won the Two Thousand Guineas, first classic race of the English season. The Aga Khan's Mahmoud was second and Mrs. J. Shand's Thankerton third.

It was the 128th running of the one-mile race for three-year-olds. Pay Up was one of the favorites, while Mahmoud and Thankerton were outsiders.

Pay Up will rate among the favorites for the Epsom Derby as a result of the victory. The Derby is over a one and a half mile route at Epsom, May 27.

Pay Up is a brown colt by Fairway-Book Debt. Mahmoud is a grey colt by Blenheim-Mah Mahal. Weights in the Two Thousand Guineas are standard at 126 pounds for colts and 121 pounds for fillies.

Pay Up led by a short head at the winning post and Thankerton was three lengths behind Mahmoud.

Lord Astor's colt started at odds of 11 to 2. Mahmoud was quoted at 100 to 3 and Thankerton was a rank outsider at 40 to 1.

NINETEEN STARTERS
Nineteen ran.
Lord Astor's Rhodes Scholar was fourth, the Duke of Marlborough's Monument was fifth and Don Valley trailed the field. Pay Up's time in the mile was 1:39 3-5.

The favorite, Daytona, was ninth. About half-way Pay Up had a slight lead over Fairway, Mahmoud, Monument, Rhodes Scholar and Thankerton.

Going into the dip Pay Up and Mahmoud drew out and the former nosed out the Aga Khan's colt to win by a short head.

W. T. Sears's Solario was scratched shortly before post time, reducing the field of probable starters from twenty. Several last-minute changes also were made in riding arrangements.

Nevett rode Don Valley and T. Burns rode Thankerton. Cliff Richards had the mount on E. W. Barrow's Angel Bred.

The winner was ridden by Dick, while Steve Donoghue was Mahmoud's jockey.

Last year the Aga Khan's Bahram won the mythical triple crown by taking the Two Thousand Guineas, the Derby and the St. Leger.

Whether Pay Up can turn the trick for Lord Astor remains to be seen. In the final call-over of odds on the eve of the race, Sir George Balfour's Daytona was favorite for today's one-mile classic, but Daytona was among the also-rans, as was Bala Hissar, from the Aga Khan's stables. Bala Hissar is among the highly-rated Derby contenders.

THE BIG SIX

Baseball's big six was dominated by National Leaguers yesterday, after the statistics of the day's play were in. Bill Dickey of the Yankees, who held fifth place in the select circle Monday, had dropped out of the first half-dozen, while Charley Gehring of Detroit Tigers, who was in second place until yesterday's games, dropped to fifth.

Bill Terry, idle as the Giants-Cards game was postponed because of rain, continued to lead the parade with his 300 average. Ducky Medwick's .452 was good enough to put him in the second spot as Gehring and Ernie Lombardi of the Reds, ahead of him Monday, dropped down. Gehring was the only American Leaguer in the group.

The standings:

	G.	A.	B.	R.	P.
Terry, Giants	9	24	5	12	300
Medwick, Cards	9	42	4	19	.452
Moore, Giants	11	48	15	21	.438
Lombardi, Reds	10	37	8	18	.432
Gehring, Tigers	11	51	16	22	.431

IT'S AN OPEN RACE

Dick Shikat Still "Champ"

New York, April 29.—The New York State Athletic Commission yesterday refused to recognize Ali Baba, Turkish wrestler, as heavy-weight wrestling champion despite his defeat of Dick Shikat in Detroit last Friday.

Chairman John J. Phelan explained Ali Baba committed a foul when he tossed Shikat from the ring. He also said wrestling bouts in Michigan are regarded in that state as exhibitions and therefore Shikat's title was not at stake.

MOUNT VIEW WINS SOCCER

Saanich Team Defeats Victoria High For Prized Trophy in Overtime

A spectacular goal by R. Oliver in the dying minutes of an overtime game gave Mount View High School boys' soccer eleven the prized Colist Cup yesterday. The Saanich team beat a hard fighting Victoria High School team 4 to 3 in the final game at the Athletic Park, to gain the trophy.

The game was the finest that has been played in the series. Both teams were in the best of form, were evenly matched and fought every inch of the way. At no stage was one team more than a goal ahead.

At half time the score was 1 to 1. At full time it was 3 to 3. Oliver's shot, which gave Mount View the victory, was a well-placed hard drive three minutes before the game closed.

Victoria High School opened the scoring fifteen minutes after the start of the game when A. Dullimore worked his way in front of the net with no one to beat but the goalkeeper and seized the opportunity.

Mount View opened on the aggressive in the second half but stout work by Colist and Ferguson on the Victoria defense broke up many fine onslaughts on goal.

R. Moss proved a reliable custodian when the Victorians drove in on the Mount View territory and made a number of fine saves, including a penalty shot taken by R. Okell, which drew applause from the spectators. J. Kennedy of Mount View starred at centre half.

MOVE AHEAD
Eleven minutes after the second half opened R. Munroe scored Mount View's second goal when he headed in a pass from McDonald.

George Barnes brought the score even again when he placed the ball neatly in the net on a pass from Dullimore.

Johnny Kennedy put Mount View in the lead again when he scored on a penalty kick with seven minutes to go. Throwing everything they had into the game Victoria got the equalizer when Okell banged the ball into the net again on the rebound after Moss had made a good save from Tom Smith but had failed to make a safe clearance.

There was wild enthusiasm from the Mount View spectators when their side took the lead in the overtime play with Oliver's goal, and although Victoria fought hard to draw even again they failed to get through.

W. J. Cull handled the game. The teams were:

Mount View—R. Moss, V. Dale and H. Frost, T. Waring, J. Kennedy and E. Ono, V. Booth, R. Munroe, B. Politano, R. McDonald and R. Oliver.

High School—D. Drummond, J. Colist and J. Ferguson, N. Brown, R. Okell and C. Holt, F. Smith, T. Smith, G. Barnes, A. Dullimore and R. Colist.

World's Largest Gem of Sort Broken By Hammer Blow Delivered By New York Export; to Be Made Into Twelve Pieces

Associated Press
New York, April 29.—The eyes of Lazare Kaplan, diamond cutter, shone with happy tears yesterday as he told how he had just performed the biggest job of his career—the first cleaving of the Jonker Diamond.

The 726-carat gem, which until yesterday was the world's largest and finest uncut diamond, is now in three pieces. Later these will be split into twelve, which the owner hopes to sell in a $5,000,000 necklace.

It was Kaplan's task to tap the uncut jewel with a brass hammer and sever it for the first time—an operation so delicate that even the owner, Harry Winston, would not look on.

The diamond fell apart perfectly. The actual cleaving took but a few seconds, but Kaplan studied the gem's cleavage planes for six months and then went away for three days of trout fishing to steady his nerves for the momentous hammer blow. A false blow might have caused fissures in the stone or shattered it into a hundred pieces.

Kaplan's three-year-old son, Leo, held the wedge while his father struck it with the brass hammer. They were the only persons in the room. After it was over, Kaplan said, he "rushed to a telephone and told my wife."

CULLINAN STORY
Winston, Fifth Avenue diamond merchant who sometime ago bought the stone for resale, recalled yesterday that Joseph Ascher suffered a nervous breakdown after successfully splitting the Cullinan stone, the only other great diamond ever cleaved.

Winston said the cleaving of the Jonker diamond was unimportant, although the uncut gem was insured for $1,000,000. He said his insurance brokers had been told by Lloyd's of London, "the risk is too great."

MAN MOUNTAIN TO SHOW HERE

Giant Grappler Will Meet Bob Kruse in Headline Bout Saturday

"Man Mountain" Dean, who tips the scales at 317 pounds and is the biggest man in the wrestling business, will make his debut here Saturday evening at the Tillicum gym, when he meets Bob Kruse, talkative grappler from Oregon, in the headline bout.

Dean is well up in the tricks of the game and is said to be able to handle himself in any company. "Man Mountain" has made a number of appearances on the mainland, but has never been to the island before. Kruse, who has defeated many well-known grapplers should prove a good opponent for the big fellow.

Promoter Fred Richardson is now arranging a good semi-windup.

Chinookers Have Dinner Tomorrow

A general meeting of the Chinook Club will take place tomorrow evening in the form of dinner in the dining-room of the Douglas Hotel at 6.30 o'clock.

All members and button holders of the Victoria-Saanich Inlet Anglers Association are urged to attend. General business, arranging of competitions and plans for a monster picnic will be discussed. Those persons wishing to attend are asked to get in touch with Stan Shmitt at Plumley and Ritchie, sporting goods store, View Street.

Derby Spirit Has Struck Louisville

Crowds Pour Into Kentucky City For Famous Race on Saturday; Brevity Still Ranks as Favorite; Indian Broom Becomes More Feared Each Day

By ORLO ROBERTSON
Louisville, Ky., April 29.—A tow-headed boy, neatly dressed in a riding habit, led outside one of Churchill Downs' green-painted barns. Occasionally his eyes wandered over to a nearby paddock where another boy, not so neatly attired, was cooling out a horse.

Scores of men walked past, paying little or no heed to the boy, except to wish him "good morning." The horse attracted even less attention as he walked round and round the small circle, almost like a robot.

Suddenly a broad smile broke the boy's countenance as if he was dreaming. Then with a sigh of contentment, he settled back into his chair with an air that said—all is right with the world.

And content he might well be for the boy was Wayne Wright; the horse, J. E. Widener's Brevity. Together they form the feared combination of the sixty-second running of the Kentucky Derby Saturday.

ON WIN STREAK
Brevity is feared because of his great speed, Wright because he not only ranks among the leading riders, but he is on a winning streak. Jockeys say that when a rider is hot, he is mighty tough to stop. Already the twenty-one-year-old Kentucky, blonde veteran has won three stakes and more than $150,000 this year. He took the Santa Anita handicap with Top Row, the Santa Anita Derby with Mrs. Silas B. Mason's He Did, and the Florida Derby with Brevity.

"Why shouldn't I feel confident?" asked Wright. "He's beaten everything that's opposed him this year and in a manner that left little to be desired."

That just about tells the belief of horsemen and laymen alike, as they thronged into the city today. Except for a scattered few, they went no farther than Brevity when asked to name their selection for the Derby.

The barber extolled the merits of the big day as he lay in his chair. The colored bootblack on the corner informed us that the Widener flash had won five of his starts and would run away from those other "nags." A waitress paused long enough from feeding the hungry mob to give us a confidential tip. It was Brevity.

"Boy that hoss Brevity is going to get my two bucks, right on the nose," declared Roy, the red cap, as he sweated and toiled from carrying the bags of the incoming Derby fans.

The complexion of the race was changed some, as the result of yesterday's developments, but Brevity was not affected.

Mrs. Silas B. Mason's He Did stepped into the picture more seriously by whipping Mrs. F. C. Mar's Saugreel and Grand Siam from the Bonar Stable in the Derby trial of one mile. W. S. Kilmer's Ned Reigh was listed as a doubtful starter as the result of developing a high fever following his trip from New York.

A GREAT TRIO
A more definite line was expected today on the highly regarded trio trained by James Fitzsimmons when the veteran trainer's assistant, George Tappan, sends the Wheatley's Stable Teufel, and William Woodward's Granville and Merry Out for a serious workout. Yesterday they did nothing more than gallop while Major A. C. Taylor's Indian Broom was reeling off a mile in the sensational time of 1:38 3-5. Some ventured the opinion "The Indian," world record holder for one and one-eighth miles might prove more dangerous than first thought.

Meanwhile, downtown Derby interest quickened as the hotel lobbies became more crowded, taxicabs became harder to get and each incoming train brought in its share of the expected crowd of 60,000.

Thousands of Kentuckians, reinforced by visiting bands, will parade tonight in the second Derby week carnival.

Sonny Jones In Win at New York

New York, April 29.—Sonny Jones, rangy negro from Vancouver, made an impressive New York debut yesterday evening when he outpointed Andre Jerserum, Manhattan, in the eight-round feature bout at the Coliseum. Jones weighed 141½, and Jerserum 147. The Canadian, making effective use of a long left jab, captured four rounds and held one even.

Special Estimates Committee Session Scheduled For Morning

A special meeting of the "cut-throat" committee will be held at the City Hall Monday morning in an effort to draw up a concrete resolution for presentation to the City Council on the mill rate, it was learned today.

All members of the special committee on estimates will meet Monday morning at 10 o'clock and work further on their financing problems in an effort to secure a definite recommendation for the council's meeting that afternoon.

The budget must be completed by May 15. At present the estimates show a sum of approximately $267,000 to be found if the rate is to remain at the 41 mill level of last year. It is possible the committee may act upon the proposal advanced by Alderman P. R. Brown a short time ago suggesting the tax on improvements be raised from 60 per cent of their value to 75 per cent and the remainder needed to meet the budget found by increasing the mill rate from 41 to 45.

RUBELLA NOT DEATH CAUSE

Dr. Richard Felton Contradicts Rumor of Complications

To contradict alarmist rumors regarding possibility of fatal complications following rubella, Dr. Richard Felton, city health officer, today stated no case on record had shown after effects of major severity as a result of the present epidemic of the mild disease.

Last week the number of rubella cases reached a high level, with 148 reported at the city department. During Monday and yesterday thirty more were added to the list as the spread of the ailment continued.

Dr. Felton referred specifically to an erroneous report concerning a recent city death had been due to rubella.

The case in question, the doctor said, had died from pneumonia a short time after the patient had recovered from rubella. A survey of pneumonia cases over a period of time indicated the death rate following the rubella outbreak was not high enough to justify any suggestion that pneumonia had been a resulting complication from the other illness.

Neither was there justification, he said, for the supposition that spinal meningitis cases had resulted directly from rubella.

Regarding the latter illness, which has claimed three lives since the beginning of the year in Greater Victoria, Dr. Felton said the only case being treated now was recovering.

JAPAN COVETS PHILIPPINES

Envious Eyes Being Cast on Islands, Says New York Engineer, Here Today

"There is no doubt that Japan, in her determination to dominate the Orient, has long cast envious eyes towards the Philippine Islands, and would not hesitate to step in there if the Philippines were left to their own resources," said George B. Coubrough, chief engineer for the Lummus Company of New York in an interview at the Empress Hotel today.

Mr. Coubrough reached Victoria by the President McKinley from Manila and disembarked here to proceed to Kelowna to visit his sisters, Mrs. I. A. Pooley and Mrs. R. Hill. He has just returned from a three months' visit to the Philippines, where he has been pursuing a campaign for the Lummus Company plants on the island of North Negros for the manufacture of alcohol from molasses.

Mr. Coubrough believes the Philippines are not ready for independence and that if the United States does not retain some sort of protection over the islands, they will be exposed to attack under Japan's aggressive policy in Asia.

He thinks there will be no holding Japan now that she has been permitted to penetrate into North China without interference.

UNION FEARED

He expressed the view that Japan was not being blocked in her penetration of northern China because of fear by world powers of a military union between Russia and China, which alignment would be stubbornly checked by Japan.

Soviet Russia, Mr. Coubrough said, had spent and was still spending vast sums of money in spreading communist propaganda throughout China, and with some measure of success.

"The peace of the Orient, as well as that of the world, Mr. Coubrough believes, can only be assured by a non-aggression treaty between Great Britain and the United States."

Mr. Coubrough is a Scotsman and a brother of A. C. Coubrough, C.B.E., minister of munitions in India during the World War. He takes pride in the fact that he was born in the same house as George Buchanan, "The Moon" at Killarney, Strathgairn, and was christened after the Scottish humanist.

POLICE COSTS ARE APPROVED

Departmental Budget Requires $105,819; Lower Than Last Year

Estimates for the operation of the city police department this year were reduced by $4,000 on the 1935 figures when they were finally passed by the Police Commission, yesterday. The commission topped $2,000 off the tentative estimates prepared by Police Chief Healey to make the net requirements for the department's operation this year $105,819.

The largest sum in the estimate is $83,990 for salaries. The question of increases for members of the force was not touched by the commissioners, this being left with the City Council to decide when representatives of the Civic Employees' Federation meet the council next week. Appropriations of $600 and $300 were set aside by the commission for the purchase of a new prowler car and new motor cycle. There was also an allocation of $500 for two new traffic signals.

Whether or not both these signals will be installed, however, is questionable and final decision on this matter rests with the council. It is understood the council is agreeable to having one signal installed at the intersection of Blanshard and Yates Street, at a cost of $250. The remaining $250 is for a signal at the intersection of Johnson and Government Streets, which the police chief is anxious to see installed to control Esquimalt traffic to and from the city.

An estimate of $200 for secret service work, which was questioned at a recent City Council meeting by Alderman Andrew McGavin, was explained by Chief Healey as being required for special work performed by members of the department. This sum, the chief said, was not in any way intended to be devoted towards paying outside men for police work. All investigations of this kind were done by members of the department, he said.

The estimates as passed by the commission, follow: Salaries $83,990, clothing $4,000, keep of prisoners $2,700, lunquets $1,000, interpreters' fees $100, fuel and light $2,000, motor patrols $2,000, new prowler car $600, motor cycle maintenance and repairs $1,500, new motorcycle $500, secret service $200, prisoners' transportation $1,500, printing $250, witness fees $50, furniture $50, telephones $1,000, contingencies $300, buildings $200, sundries $2,200, insurance $1,500, traffic signals $500, traffic signal maintenance $180; total, $105,819.

CHARLES RAY WILL RETIRE

Assistant Postmaster Leaving After Forty-five Years' Service

Charles E. Ray, assistant postmaster in Victoria since October 1, 1928, will retire tomorrow after forty-five and a half years in the postal service.

Mr. Ray started as a temporary clerk in the post office on November 10, 1890.

He has been in the Victoria branch all the time and has seen the staff grow from twenty-two to 112. When he first joined there were but four letter carriers. Now there are fifty-six.

On the same payroll list on which Charles Ray's name was written in 1890 are James Murray, now district superintendent of postal service in Vancouver; Theodore Bryant, now postmaster at Ladysmith; D. B. McConnaughey, former assistant receiver-general and now retired in Victoria; Frank Sehl, provincial collector of income tax and secretary of the Canadian Club here; and C. W. Finlayson and J. E. Roberts, both retired here.

Born in St. Stephen, New Brunswick, Mr. Ray was educated in Minneapolis, Minn. He came to Victoria when he was about eighteen, and worked in a book and stationery shop belonging to J. J. Daley before joining the post office.

His father was a blacksmith and plied his trade here in the days of coach and horses. He married the daughter of F. G. Hall, prominent old-time druggist in the city.

The good wishes of the whole staff of the post office in Victoria go with Mr. Ray on his retirement.

ADVERTISE IN FOUR STATES

Publicity Bureau Will Publicize Island Through Newspapers in Fifteen Cities

Plans to carry out a newspaper advertising campaign in the larger cities of the Pacific Northwestern States were arranged yesterday afternoon at a meeting held by the directors of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau.

The feature tourist attractions on Vancouver Island and Victoria will be run by daily newspapers in fourteen of the largest cities in the four states of Central Washington, Oregon, Idaho and Montana.

The advertisements will run during the months of May and June. Charles Advertising Service of Victoria is preparing the campaign for the bureau.

This will be the first direct effort made by the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau in several years to interest residents of these states of the island's recreational facilities.

Newspapers in the following cities will run the ads: Wenatchee, Ellensburg, Yakima, Walla Walla and Spokane, of Washington; Pendleton, Bend and Klamath Falls in the state of Oregon; Boise and Lewiston of Idaho; Butte, Missoula, Helena and Great Falls of Montana.

The directors expressed their appreciation for the fine co-operation of Major J. Gordon Smith, director of the Provincial Bureau of Information in the Parliament Buildings, and his staff, in advertising this city abroad.

Civil Servants Smiling Today

British Columbia civil servants smiled today as they pocketed amounts running from $2 to $15.00 on their April pay cheques as the result of salary cut restorations put through by the government at the last session.

The restorations put all civil servants earning $1,800 and less back to their former wage level. Those earning above $1,800 received a flat increase of $15.00 a month.

Liquor Control Board headquarters announced today that its salary list had been revised upward in accordance with the salary restoration policy.

The increases for liquor board employees were not on the same basis as the civil service because the cuts were imposed differently. Revision of the whole salary list was carried out, with adjustments as between different occupations.

Death Appeal Continues Here

Stuart Henderson in Eighth Day of Argument to Save Three From Gallows

The jury in the second trial of the three George brothers, convicted of the murder of Indian Constable F. H. Gisbourne on the Canford reserve, near Merritt, in May, 1934, did not ask the trial judge about common intent, Stuart Henderson, defence counsel, told the Appeal Court this morning. The jury, he said, asked about malice, and returned from their room twice for a definition. It was the eighth day of Mr. Henderson's argument.

Mr. Justice M. A. Macdonald pointed out that it was more difficult to find malice than common intent, so Mr. Henderson's case must have had the better of it. Mr. Henderson claimed the old common law definition of murder, now repealed, was submitted by the trial judge to the jury, and the whole statement was based on a law that did not exist. The difference between the old and new definitions should have been explained to the jury.

When the trial judge dealt with intent, said defence counsel, the jury were not confused, but when malice was introduced, they asked what the difference was between murder and manslaughter. Chief Justice Macdonald wanted to know what miscarriage of justice had taken place. He could not see it. Mr. Henderson replied that when malice was introduced was injected into the jury, was a miscarriage of justice.

Defence counsel cited a considerable length cases which he claimed fitted the George trial, which brought comment from Mr. Justice Martin that the combination of the four brothers was found not to have existed, as Joseph George was acquitted of the murder charge.

Victoria drugists were scheduled to meet members of the city health and relief committees this afternoon to resume discussions regarding provision of drugs for relief cases.

It was understood the meeting would be of an informal nature, with the pharmacists securing more definite data from the city body on the city's needs. At present, according to drugists, they have insufficient data to bring in any report on the establishment of a formula, being unaware of the exact requirements of the city.

ARCHITECT IS SEEKING FEE

New York Man Claims He Did Not Get His Share in C.N.R. Hotel Work
Canadian Press
Montreal, April 29.—Charles D. Wetmore, New York architect, asked in a superior court action today for an accounting of all money paid by Canadian National Railways to the late John S. Archibald for work as architect on an addition to the Chateau Laurier at Ottawa and a C.N.R. hotel project in Vancouver.

In default of the accounting, Wetmore asked for $49,599, which he suggested was due him for work with Archibald on the two hotel projects.

Wetmore, who claimed to have been hired by Archibald to prepare preliminary plans, said he was to have received one-sixth of the money his employer received from the railway company.

Archibald, he claimed, received more than $516,000, while he was paid only $40,000.

Hearing is continuing.

STAGE STAR AT THE COLUMBIA

W. Leonard Howe Appears in Person With "The Man They Could Not Hang"

"The Man They Could Not Hang" opened its much-heralded engagement at the Columbia Theatre this afternoon.

In addition to the talking film, a special prologue introduces in person the well-known stage and film actor, W. Leonard Howe, long with Doug. Fairbanks Sr., who recently revisited the scene of the Babby-combe mystery and while outlining it in detail will show many shots of the actual place and people concerned in the story, which deals with the celebrated case of John Lee. Besides touching on the miracle of his three escapes from death on the scaffold, he will have a hidden story of enduring love and sacrifice. It is a show of absorbing interest, in no way gruesome, with the added novelty of being absolutely true.

At the same time, the Premier af- firmed that non-citizens should not be allowed to hold jobs in this province when genuine citizens are unemployed, and he added that an embargo on exports of money by such persons should be enforced. Although he contemplates no immediate action toward these ends, he noted such action could be taken through the province's new licensing laws, which might be amended to prevent non-citizens from holding jobs in Alberta.

Associated Press
Edmonton, April 29.—No action toward forcing non-citizens to take out naturalization papers in order to hold jobs in Alberta is contemplated yet by the provincial government, Premier Abernethy said today.

Neither is any immediate measure planned to prevent these workers from sending their savings out of Canada, to their homelands, he added.

At the same time, the Premier affirmed that non-citizens should not be allowed to hold jobs in this province when genuine citizens are unemployed, and he added that an embargo on exports of money by such persons should be enforced. Although he contemplates no immediate action toward these ends, he noted such action could be taken through the province's new licensing laws, which might be amended to prevent non-citizens from holding jobs in Alberta.

Color Films In New Lineup

Hollywood.—Paramount studio is the latest producing organization to enter the field of color pictures and studio officials have announced that the 1936-37 programme would include four films in Technicolor.

Frank Lloyd, who returns from a Mexican vacation soon to start his Paramount work as a producer, is considering a sea story as his first film, and this probably will be in color.

"The Trail of the Lonesome Pine," currently playing in theatres, and the first outdoor film made entirely in color, is responsible for the contemplated color films.

CAPITOL THEATRE
"The Trail of the Lonesome Pine" is now at the Capitol Theatre in a spectacular technicolor version starring Sylvia Sydney, Fred MacMurray and Henry Fonda. Based on the novel by John Poir, Jr., "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine" is a tale of hill folk in the Cumberland Mountains, and the feuds that set family to fighting family—for causes long since forgotten. More than 90 per cent of the picture was filmed outdoors, at Big Bear Lake, California.

DOMINION THEATRE
Gene Raymond conducts a three-thousand-mile race for happiness in ten days to convince Wendy Barrie, a penniless debutante, that marrying a pauper with a sense of humor is more profitable than marrying a millionaire stuffed shirt in the spirited adventure romance, "Love on a Bet," now at the Dominion Theatre.

Raymond contrives ingenious de-tours to surmount the obstacles blocking his path to romance. Miss Barrie decides to marry the millionaire and hastens from New York to Hollywood to meet him.

A Code of Conduct Is Needed for Marriages

IT SEEMS TO ME that nothing would go farther toward ironing out the difficulties and perplexities of marriage and promoting its success than for all prospective brides and bridegrooms to have drawn up for them a marriage contract which they would have to sign in the presence of witnesses, and which would set forth in legal terms the nature of the partnership into which they were entering, and how they were to divide its duties and share in its emoluments, if any.

You may say that all of this is included in the marriage ceremony, but the trouble with the marriage ceremony is that it deals in vague promises and glittering generalities. It does not get down to brass tacks. What is needed is a definite code of conduct to which husbands and wives must live up to, or else pay the penalty.

The man and woman, for instance, who agree to love and cherish each other until death shall them part know that when they do it that they are probably committing perjury, because the ability to keep on loving any one is beyond our control. Mental growth, changing tastes, the development of character, the inevitable disillusionments of conjugal life very often kill every particle of affection between a husband and a wife who would gladly go on being romantically in love if it were possible. Also, it is one thing for a man to glibly vow at the altar to endow his wife with all his worldly goods and quite another thing for him to agree to give her so much cold cash every week with which to run the house and for her own personal behoof and benefit.

The truth is that most engaged couples go around on a kind of sentimental jag in which they see the future as they wish it to be, and not as it is. Certainly it would have a sobering effect upon them to be forced to consider calmly and dispassionately what obligations they are assuming, and the privileges they are forfeiting by getting married, before they sign on the dotted line.

Most domestic storms are literally tempests in teapots. Husbands and wives quarrel over little things. About the market money. About the breakfast coffee. About staying at home or going to the movies. About the man having a blonde stenographer or playing poker with his old cronies now and then. And about how many hats the wife shall have. About visiting relatives. And so on and on. These questions cannot be settled after marriage without friction, but before marriage they could be amicably arranged, or else the deal could be called off if either was not willing to agree to the other's terms.

Take money, over which so many husbands and wives fight from the altar to the grave. Nobody can estimate the disaster that has been ruined and the homes that have been wrecked by wives whose breakfast table theme song is "Gimme, gimme," and the husband's refrain is "What did you do with that quarter I gave you week before last?" Yet how easily these tragedies could be avoided if before marriage the marriage contract set forth plainly what percentage of her husband's pay envelope the wife was to have to run the house on and for her own use. Many a woman would be saved from lifelong slavery to a tightwad if she had the opportunity to find out his view on allowances for wives before marriage instead of afterward.

And there are the in-laws, always a thorn in the side of the party of the other part. How easily this festering sore could be healed by a simple phrase in the marriage contract that would set apart a specific time for the wife's family to occupy the guest chamber and another time of equal length for the husband's relatives, and no visiting in between times.

And how much could be saved in the way of tears and peace offerings if the amount of personal liberty both the husband and wife were to have was explicitly defined and agreed to in the marriage contract. The thing that makes both men and women years to make a sneak from their own firesides is the knowledge that they can't get away from them without an argument and a row, and telling just where they are going and what they expect to do, and leaving the husband or the wife looking ill-used or neglected. If married couples would sign a cast-iron agreement to leave the front door on the latch, there would be a lot more home-staying husbands and wives.

Finally, a marriage contract would go far toward stopping divorce, not only by making a man and woman realize what they were going into when they got married, but also what they would get out of it if they broke up their marriage.

It is folly in these days, when one marriage out of six ends in divorce, not to prepare for it in case of bad luck, and to settle before marriage about the children and the alimony. Women profit most by the alimony racket, and many a one would not be so quick to buy a ticket to Reno if she knew that her marriage contract only entitled her to hold her husband up for small pickings.

Uncle Wiggily and the Goldfish

BY HOWARD E. GARIS

Uncle Wiggily had a goldfish for a pet. He kept it in a large bowl filled with water. One day when Uncle Wiggily was sitting on the floor in the middle of the room and there was a knock at the door. Uncle Wiggily heard a voice say, "Hello, Uncle Wiggily." Uncle Wiggily said, "Hello, Swimmer. The rabbit gentleman would answer. Swimmer was the name of the goldfish."

HOROSCOPE

"The stars incline, but do not compel"

THURSDAY, APRIL 30, 1936

Astrologers read this as an unimportant day in planetary direction. It is a time for thinking rather than for activity that pledges future expenditures.

Women are under a favorable rule at the time which is a time for the public service. Politics will engage the energies of many men and women, but they should not seek personal success. The stars preage extremely bitter contests in the national campaign, which will develop sensational lies about the women voters. A leader will win acclaim one of the two important political parties. Schisms and troubles may be expected this time which is a time for the public service. Politics will engage the energies of many men and women, but they should not seek personal success.
